REDS CLOSING GIANT PINCERS

By HENRY C. CASSIDY

MOSCOW, Jan. 5 (AP)—The Red army's middle Don pincers was reported closing today on a second large German force west of Stalingrad despite counterattacks of fresh Nazi forces.

A powerful force of German tanks and infantry attacked yesterday in a grim effort to reach one isolated pocket of their troops in the Don bend sector, but the thrust was repelled, battle-front dispatches said.

Meanwhile the Russians announced the occupation of Chernishkov, on the rail line to Likhaya, and the German air base at Chernishkovskaya, 40 miles farther north, with capture of 17 planes, 2,000,000 shells and a half-million airplane bombs.

In this sector the Russians appeared to be within about 30 miles of closing their trap on the second force of Germans some 100 miles west of Stalingrad.

HOLD 25-MILE CORRIDOR

The Russians reported holding a corridor 25 miles wide at the narrowest place between this force and the remnants of the 22 divisions pocketed farther east, between the Don and Volga.

The German counter attacks were launched with reserves and gained some ground in the initial stages of the fight. The Russians said, however, that their tanks threw the Nazis into retreat.

The Germans already had tried twice to relieve their Stalingrad force, which is being whittled down steadily. The Germans, hemmed in an area of some 300 square miles, were said to be living on scant rations of horse-meat and bread, with ammunition running low.

(The Moscow radio broadcast a mid-day communique heard by the Soviet monitor in London reporting fierce fighting southwest of Stalingrad, in the middle Don, in the Caucasus and on the Velikie-Luki and Rzhev front northwest of Moscow

(The noon war bulletin reported more towns recaptured southwest of Stalingrad and in the middle Don where Russian tank forces were said to have broken the ranks of counterattacking Germans.

NAZIS STIFFEN DEFENSE

Battle front dispatches said German resistance southwest of Velikie Luki was stiffening but that the Red army kept on the attack.

In the Kalmyck steppe fighting west and southwest of Elista the Russians were reported pushing ahead under difficult conditions of terrain over an arid, snowless plain whipped by dry, cold winds.

RAF BATTERS RUHR VALLEY

LONDON, Jan. 5 (INS)—Royal Air Force bombers returned to the Ruhr valley during the night to carry out a second successive raid against industrial targets in the German iron and coal mining region, the air ministry announced today.

The communique said two British bombers were missing.

Precise locality of the target was not disclosed.

The German radio said the British bombers dropped their lethal loads over western Germany, asserting that only minor damage to buildings resulted, and claimed that four RAF planes were shot down.

Sunday night, following up a strong assault by American Flying Fortresses and Liberators against the Nazi submarine base of St. Nazaire, France, RAF bombers blasted industrial areas in the Ruhr valley. Three British craft were lost.

A dispatch to the Daily Express from an American bomber station in England said that Fortresses attacking St. Nazaire shot down 38 German fighter planes which engaged them in dogfights over the target area.

U. S. GAINS IN AIR ROUND THE WORLD

The fast growing American and Allied air might—the weapon the United Nations are building up for a speedy end to the war on all fronts—is thrillingly portrayed today in two graphic stories by celebrated war correspondents on two far-apart areas—in the Southwest Pacific and the Mediterranean.

Yanks Rake Solomon Base

By RICHARD TREGASKIS

Boston Evening American Staff Correspondent

WITH U. S. ARMY AIR FORCES ON GUADALCANAL, Dec. 20 (delayed) (INS)—"We're going on a strike, to Kahili," said Capt. John J. Charters as calmly as if he were talking about a ride in the country.

We were standing under the wing of the Flying Fortress, and Capt. Charters, who comes from Oak Park, Ill., was checking detatils before his take-off. The time was last night. The full moon was growing brighter with passing minutes. If we were to get to Kahili while vision was best, we would have to take off soon.

Kahili! These B-17 (Flying Fortress) pilots speak of it as if it were a drugstore around the corner. Actually, it is a highly dangerous air base on the southern tip of Bougainville, 275 miles north of Guadalcanal.

The Japs have been working hard of late to build up and expand Kahili, and our Flying Fortress crews, with equal determination, have been hitting it almost daily with bombs.

The Army Air Forces, under the South Pacific command of Maj.-Gen. Millard F. Harmon, are aware that the Japs are bidding for future air control in the Solomons by building and expanding air bases.

BOMBS WITH BOTTLES

If this new phase of the Pacific struggle is to end favorably for our side, we must hamper the Jap building operations with a continual shower of bombs. That is what the B-17 boys are doing. Hence their familiarity with Kahili, and the airport at Buka, and the new Jap airdrome at Munda bay on New Georgia.

"There's a fighter strip under construction at Ballale, too, said Capt. Charters. "On a little island off Kahili. We may have a crack at that, too." Ballale, like the other airports the Japs are trying to finish in the Solomons, is a great potential threat to us.

MAJ.-GEN. M. F. HARMON
On Duty in Solomons

We had bomb-racks full of high explosive to take to Kahili and Ballale this night. Also, a couple of cases of empty beer bottles which the crew was anxious to throw at the Japs. "Those bottles screech like bombs on the way down," said Sergt. Randolph Colgin of Houston, Tex., radio operator. "They'll scare hell out of the Japs."

Our engines started and revved up, we headed into the wind, and then were down the long runway and air-borne, swinging out over the sea in the direction of Bougainville. Stars gleamed bright above the fluffy white cumulus clouds, and the reflection of the moon was a diffused spot of silver that moved along with us over the slick water.

GO AFTER "CHARLIE"

The navigator, Lieut. Thornton H. Lewis of Los Angeles, switched on a dim light above his desk and made a quick check of our course. "I could make this run blindfolded," he said. "I've run up here so darned often. But it don't get

Germans Blasted on Crete

By EDWARD KENNEDY

OVER CRETE WITH U. S. AIR FORCE, Jan. 2 (delayed) (AP)—We are bombing Crete today as part of a great effort to knock that island out as a German air base.

We have a number of points to prove. One is that the Germans were not so smart as they thought they were when they took the island with parachutists so they could use it as an offensive air base against the Middle East.

We are trying to do to Crete the very thing they attempted to do to Malta a few months ago—and failed.

We took off from a secret assembling point in the Middle East in a large formation of B-24 Liberators. This raid is highly strategic. We are to go over their main fighter airfield at Kastella Peninsula, southeast of Candia, and smush up their runways, so no fighters can take off.

ACES IN COMMAND

Then medium bombers—B-25 Mitchcells—are to come in at a much lower altitude and destroy their planes on the field.

The man who planned this raid must have had imagination. He happens to be piloting the plane I am in—Lieut.-Col. A. F. Kalberer of Lafayette, Ind.

He was an airline pilot in the United States and then became chief pilot for K. L. M., the Dutch airline. He kept that job after the invasion of Holland as K. L. M. continued to operate—and to be one of the best airlines in the world—despite the collapse of its home country.

LT.-COL. A. F. KALBERER
Raid on Crete Reported

He went to America at his own expense to join the U. S. Air Force and, speaking of coincidences, arrived the day the Japanese attacked Pearl Harbor. He led the first raid of American planes from the Middle East against the Rumanian oil fields.

He also led the second raid, which was against the Italian fleet and was highly successful.

Col. George F. McGuire of Coffeyville, Kan., is leading this raid and Kalberer is in command of the final formation of our planes. We take off. We get in position and then we strike out over the sea straight for Crete.

HIGHER THAN EAGLES FLY

We ascend. We are so high now that no creature can live without oxygen at this height. No eagle or any other bird has ever flown as high as we are. We are going to fool them this time by coming in higher than they expect us to.

It is hard to see much at this height, but we can see mountains and valleys of Crete, and above all we can see one thing we want

21 New Grove Fire Witnesses Quizzed

New evidence was sought today 14 State detectives as they began interviewing 21 persons who escaped the Cocoanut Grove holocaust alive, but who could not be questioned until now.

At the same time, officials prosecuting indictments against 10 men in the case refused to discuss a statement declared to have been made voluntarily by an unnamed public official.

This man, for more than 20 years closely connected with structural and wiring inspections in Boston buildings of public assembly, is understood to have made some strong assertions against "conditions" with which city employes have been forced to comply in connection with inspections.

NEW REILLY INQUEST

The 14 detectives seeking new evidence are under direct orders of Acting Public Safety Commr. John F. Stokes who, early in the investigation, instructed that none of the injured or burned was to be interviewed—especially hospital cases—until attending doctors' permission had been obtained.

Meanwhile, it was also learned today that Fire Commr. William Arthur Reilly's inquest into the disaster will be resumed within a few days, when he will be provided with the reports of experts and laboratory men who have been testing samples of the decorations

HUB BOMBING RAID WON'T CAUSE PANIC, SAY PSYCHIATRISTS

Would an enemy air raid throw Boston into panic? Noted psychiatrists give their opinion on that vital question in this second article of a series dealing with the mental effects of the Cocoanut Grove disaster.

By PAULINE WARREN

Should an air raid hit Boston, chances are that the populace can take it without succumbing to hysteria—that's the conclusion to be inferred from the reports of a corps of distinguished psychiatrists at the Boston City Hospital who made an analysis of more than 100 victims of the Cocoanut Grove fire treated at the Hospital.

The mental reactions of those who survived, along with the effect on volunteers of having worked in the midst of burned bodies, are invaluable in determining the mental impact of a major catastrophe on the citizens of Boston.

A close check on these two factors reveals that the public in general can take disaster in normal stride, disproving the careless claims of many people that a few bombs dropped on Boston would throw most of us into nightmarish panic.

CASES COMPILED

More than 60 complete case histories were compiled at the Boston City Hospital of patients badly burned in the fire. All of them were found to be absolutely free of mental disturbances—all are now so normal, in fact, that most of them stated they had no fear of night clubs and would not hesitate to attend a night-club party after being dismissed from the hospital.

The psychiatrists failed to find one single case of phobia against night clubs or other congested places of amusement.

A check with the Out Patient Department of the hospital also discloses that so far, at least, no one has come in to be treated for bad dreams or hallucinations or other nervous disorders attributive to this tragic event.

Much of this healthy mental state can be ascribed to the almost magical work of the psychiatrists of the large hospitals who, for once, set phychiatry to work on a bread-and-butter basis and applied it as a preventive, instead of waiting until mental disorders were apparent in the patients.

That their work was instant and thorough is well attested by the fact that the case histories on each paient were complete within

NEW OIL CRISIS AS COLD STAYS

Piercing winds and temperatures only a few degrees above zero aggravated the fuel crisis today and hastened the hardships attendant on an oil distribution breakdown, seen by Gov. Saltonstall when heavy oil reserves fell below the 5,000,000 barrel mark.

An emergency release of 40,000 barrels of heavy bunker oil by the government, amounting to 1,680,000 gallons, forestalled the shutdown of several schools, institutions and war plants.

However, this new supply may be gone by the end of the week, owing to the cold.

Col. Sullivan

Temperatures tumbled during the night to the near-zero mark in many communities in the wake of the snowstorm which blanketed New England to a depth of from four to six inches and caused three deaths. Weather bureau forecasts held little promise of quick relief.

The mercury nose-dived to 10 above zero at 7 this morning, Boston's minimum since midnight, according to an official U. S. weather report. Continued cold and fresh winds were predicted for the remainder of today and tonight.

State and city civilian defense committees sped plans for evacuating families from cold homes as Col. Thomas F. Sullivan, state conservator, asserted the kerosene shortage was as critical as the scarcity of heavy bunker oil.

"The state's kerosene supply today is at its lowest ebb," declared Col. Sullivan, "and we are exerting every effort to locate some in other areas and have it transported here. Most of the dealers' tanks are absolutely dry."

HOME SUPPLIES DWINDLE

Fuel oil supplies for home furnaces likewise are dwindling. To protect them, Gov. Saltonstall issued his 46th war emergency order, forbidding industries and large commercial users of bunker oil from using the No. 2 type of oil.

The Governor obtained the emergency government allotment of bunker oil after informing Pe-

$30,000 Fire Perils Woburn Business Area

Woburn's business center was threatened early today by a general alarm fire which caused $30,000 damage as it swept a restaurant, grocery, linoleum store and a 13-room house before firemen gained control.

Help was called from Winchester and Stoneham as the flames spread rapidly through the various establishments, located at Main st. and Mann court.

The blaze broke out in the Palm Gardens cafe and restaurant on Main st. and in a few minutes swept through the adjacent grocery store and linoleum concern to the Mann court home of Mr. and Mrs. William Douvris, owners of the burned property.

Douvris carried his wife, who is recovering from pneumonia, to a neighbor's home after arousing his son and four daughters.

Three of the Douvris girls, Elizabeth, 22, Julia, 20, and Jean, 17, had barely time to fling on coats and flee, barefoot, for their lives. Also escaping were Charles Douvris, 14, and Dorothy, 11.

SLIGHT INCREASE IN BEEF SUPPLIES SEEN BY PACKERS

By the Associated Press

Beef may soon be more plentiful in some sections of the country, but reports indicated today that there will be no general alleviation of the civilian shortage.

A spokesman for the American Meat Institute in Chicago declared that the Army is taking very large quantities of beef and that "Army needs come first."

A cause of the civilian undersupply, some meat packers asserted, is that the government has placed a ceiling on prices without a balancing ceiling on livestock.

"There is a terrific loss in most beef and to remain in business we can't afford to kill any more animals than we have to," one Pittsburgh packer said. "It means we keep Army orders filled but don't always have the 70 per cent of last year's meat available that can go to civilian trade."

Slaughtering of local herds was advanced as a chief means of relieving the shortage in many communities.

Throughout New England many persons were having trouble in getting steaks with their French fries. Stores in Boston said they had only sufficient fresh beef to supply early arriving customers.

The Chicago area has an undersupply, particularly in some cuts of beef, the American Meat Institute spokesman said. He said the Middle West has a better supply than either coast, but added, "you can't be choosy in buying these days."

In New York City butchers said that beef is very hard to obtain and that customers, who know the days on which deliveries are made, quickly buy out the supplies on hand.

BLACK MARKET IN MEATS THRIVES DESPITE CEILINGS

By SYD BOEHM

Special to Boston Evening American

NEW YORK, Jan. 5—In the black market choice meats can be had for a price.

The meat packers, obeying the OPA ceiling price laws to the letter, have found themselves powerless in some instances to halt these illegal operations.

Meat packers, whose ceiling price levels are generally the same, established by the prices they received last March for their wares, are hopeful that new OPA regulations will accomplish something toward ending activities of the black barketeers.

UNIFIED PRICES

The OPA, according to announced plans, intends placing unified ceiling prices for all butcher shops on each and every cut of meat. This may be done toward the end of this month.

Meanwhile, federal and local prosecuting authorities have been delving into the "Who's Who" in the growing black market. Arrests and prosecutions are expected soon.

To obtain supplies, many retail butchers must pay bribes to certain cliques of middlemen who have managed to gain control of large amounts of beef, pork, lamb and veal.

Because of this dealing in the black market, the butchers must, in order to make any profit, illegally raise the ceiling prices set for them by the OPA on the basis of the prices they received for this food last March.

The ceiling price violations of small butcher shops are legion in this city.

The large chain stores strictly adhere to the OPA regulations, refusing to deal with the speculating middlemen.

SHOWCASES BARE

Thus, it is a common sight for a housewife to enter a chain store market and find the meat showcases virtually bare, while in a small shop she will find an overabundance of assorted meats.

Dealing in the black market does not actually give a higher percentage of profit to the retail butcher. They do not even want the black market to exist.

But, to remain in business, the butcher must have wares to sell to meet the competition of the unethical retailer "down the street."

For 25 hindquarters of grade "A" beef, a $300 bribe goes to a "speculator." For a supply of hams and bacon, a bribe of $125 a week is paid to some meat salesmen.

Reporters have observed the activities in large New York markets on several mornings—the almost desperate, but vain attempts of butchers to obtain supplies from their regular sources.

CITY COUNCIL DEADLOCKED

Boston's 1943 City Council will be without a president until next Monday at least as a result of the hectic, filibuster battle which brought the council's first new year meeting to a no-decision end.

Councilors arrived at no choice after nine ballots and four hours of wrangling during which charges were made from the floor that a U. S. Senator exerted his influence to swing the election by aiding two councilor-servicemen to obtain leaves from their military posts to attend the meeting.

The election was postponed until next Monday.

Councilor Maurice H. Sullivan of Brighton led for the first five ballots, coming within one of having the necessary 12 votes, while Councilor William F. Dwyer garnered six votes. Then Sullivan withdrew and Councilor Joseph M. Scannell of South Boston stepped in to get the support of Sullivan's followers. Scannell got 11 votes

Councilor Charles I. Taylor of Roxbury, who headed one of the council factions seeking to elect a president, staged a filibuster by reading from the mayor's inaugural address of 1941.

THOUSANDS STRIKE IN FORD PLANT; TIE UP WAR OUTPUT

DETROIT, Jan. 5 (INS)—War production at the sprawling Ford Rouge plant was crippled seriously today as a strike of thousands of maintenance workers depleted supplies and forced the company rapidly to close down several departments.

The strikers, members of UAW-CIO Local 600, reportedly were protesting against a new contract provision whereby maintenance workers are controlled by separate departments rather than by a central department.

Threatening to paralyze virtually all of the Rouge plant, the strike began yesterday at about 4:30 p. m. when a new departmental maintenance office was set up in one unit.

By 10 p. m. approximately 4000 maintenance workers were affected. The midnight shift refushed to enter the plant and by 8 a. m. more than 1900 regular production men were affected with a loss of 13,900 man hours.

Only enough men to maintain vital machines stayed on the job.

Men in the foundry department were soon forced to quit work when electricians cut off all power.

Similarly work was so stymided in the motor, press steel and axle buildings that each was shut down.

The work stoppage affected the jobbing and production fonudries, foundry machine shop, magnesium foundry, armor plate building, rolling mill and approximately 30 carpenters.

The strike continued despite pleas of Pres. R. J. Thomas of the International UAW-CIO; Paul Ste. Marie, Local 600 president, and Col. George E. Strong, chief of plant protection for the Army Air Forces.

Police Hunt Slayer of Bakery Girl

NEW YORK, Jan. 5 (AP)—A slayer who chose the murk of predawn to drive a knife into the back of an attractive 23-year-old girl was the object of a police search today.

The stabbing victim, Dorothy Huber, was still conscious when found by two co-workers on a sidewalk near the Bronx baking plant where the three were employed.

"Get me to a hospital," she gasped.

They supported the girl, and not knowing she had been stabbed, walked with her the two blocks to the baking plant. In front of the plant she collapsed.

At Lincoln Hospital, where she died a few minutes later, doctors found a stab wound had penetrated her lung.

Detectives searching the neighborhood discovered a blood-stained knife shoved through a picket fence several doors from the scene of the stabbing, which occurred in a mixed residential-industrial section.

Police said the girl had been going to work at 10:30 a. m. but was starting today on a shift arriving at 7:30 a. m.

DARING U. S. SUB RESCUES 29 WHITES OFF JAP ISLAND

By J. NORMAN LODGE

WITH SOUTH PACIFIC FLEET, Jan. 5 (AP)—A daring submarine operation under cover of darkness has resulted in the rescue of 29 men, women and children from a Japanese-held island in the Solomon group, Admiral William F. Halsey disclosed today.

The commander of the South Pacific force said 17 of those rescued were white women known to have been in imminent danger of ill treatment and death. Three were children.

The operation involved the detaching of a fleet submarine from the task of sinking Japanese shipping and sending her to shallow waters to effect the evacuation.

The daring coup was accomplished under the very noses of the Japs.

Information was received late in December that a party of missionaries, who had not been evacuated prior to enemy occupation of the Solomons last spring, was in danger of capture by a raiding force of several hundred Japanese.

Only two methods of effecting the rescue were feasible—either by air or submarine. The underwater craft was chosen.

Messages were dispatched to this craft, which was unable to reply lest it reveal its position. Thus progress of the daring plan to evacuate those endangered could not be determined.

It is known now, however, that the submarine commander received and carried out the orders.

The submarine reached the rendezvous on schedule. It stood close to shore and took the refugees aboard at night after replying to a pre-designated signal. Originally it had been planned to make a second attempt the following night if the initial trial failed.

As it turned out that would have been tragic, for the morning after the fleeing party was placed aboard the sub a large number of Japs landed.

Forty-eight hours after the submarine dipped away from the scene the commander's first laconic announcement of success was received. A day later the group was transferred to an American patrol vessel in friendly waters and immediately taken to Australia.

The names and addresses of those rescued are not known at this time.

FEMALE 'HUBBY' VOWS SHE WILL STICK TO MAN'S ROLE

CHICAGO, Jan. 5 (INS)—Husky, deep-voiced Mildred Allen, 30, who masqueraded as a man for 12 years, becoming a truck driver, gang boss and proprietor of her own construction company, today faced a charge of impersonation.

Held with her for disorderly conduct was Esther Hoffman, 31, who, authorities said, lived with the Allen woman as "wife" for two and a half years. The pair was known as "Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Vernon."

Mrs. Vivian Anderson, 21, who allegedly sold her five-month-old baby, Dawn, to the "Vernons," also was booked at a turbulent police hearing. She was accused of contributing to the child's dependency.

A gray pin-striped suit, brown tie, blue socks and black shoes was the snappy male attire the Allen woman affected when haled into court. She looked around belligerently, threatening to "punch you jerks in the nose."

She insisted she would continue her impersonation when she is free again.

"I've got a right to dress the way I want to," she asserted. "What about all the women who wear slacks?"

She and Miss Hoffman met in Indianapolis and admittedly "ran around together" for several months before Mildred revealed to the other that she was a woman. Authorities said Dawn was purchased for $2 down and was to be paid for by small installments.

Dr. Dayton Hoffman, prominent Akron, Ind., physician and father of Miss Hoffman, brought about the arrests after his daughter announced she was going to have a child, but changed the expected date several times.

State Ends Year With Biggest Surplus

Massachusetts ended its fiscal year last Nov. 30 with $5,479,218 in the bank, the state's largest surplus in many years, Paul W. Foster, chairman of the commission on administration and finance, announced today.

Foster said the surplus was greater by $1,133,998 than the surplus of the preceding year, adding that $3,787,963 was in the general fund, the balance in the highway fund.

Probe Due on Land Purchase

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5 (AP)—An investigation of the government's war-time purchase of millions of acres of land will be made by the Joint Committee on Non-essential Federal Expenditures, Chairman Byrd (D.) of Virginia, announced today.

Byrd told reporters the committee would call before it soon Norman M. Littell, assistant attorney general in the lands division of the Justice Department for questioning about his asserted statement that the government contemplated the eventual purchase of 30,000,000 acres, an area equal in size to all of New England.

While preparations were being made for this inquiry, the committee called for testimony today from Philip B. Fleming, Federal Works Administrator, and representatives of the National Youth Administration on proposals to cut appropriations for those activities.

Missing In Action Story With Humor

The terse "missing in action" reports of the War Department have their lighter side, too.

Sergt. Nathan Dennett Prince, 23, son of Mrs. Agnes Prince of Wenham, has been reported missing officially since June 17 last. Yet, since then, his mother has received a veritable stream of letters from her son.

The mother, doubtful of her son's fate, was really thrilled today when notified her son has received the Distinguished Flying Cross. Prince, a bombardier with the Army Air Corps, was reported missing in Java.

Court Praises Mrs. Willkie

NEW YORK, Jan. 5 (P)—Justice Samuel Null paid a special tribute to juror No. 5, Mrs. Wendell Willkie, after a Supreme Court jury returned a $3000 verdict in an automobile death case.

The verdict was awarded Mrs. Tillie Rostowsky, whose 15-year-old son was killed by a taxicab, Mrs. Willkie, wife of the 1940 Republican presidential candidate, was one of four women serving on the panel.

"She could have been excused," Judge Null said, "but instead, she chose to serve. She asked no special favors. She is a fellow-American, and in the final analysis this is our way of life. It is that true Americanism, that priceless heritage which America is so valiantly fighting for."

NEW 78TH CONGRESS URGES F. D. DROP SOCIAL REFORMS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5 (AP)—A group of influential legislators was reported today to have decided on a last-minute plea to President Roosevelt to omit Social Security revision from his legislative program.

Their decision made known by high-ranking Democrats, came amid pleas for harmony and final arrangements for organization of the 78th Congress which convenes tomorrow at noon.

Presidential Secretary Stephen Early said he thought Mr. Roosevelt would "talk to a good many" congressional leaders before personally delivering his annual message to the legislators.

He did not discuss the contents of the speech in its present draft, but said Mr. Roosevelt was trying to hold it down to 4000 or 4500 words. It will be broadcast.

Authoritative spokesmen said earlier suggestions to the President that the controversial Social Security subject be sidetracked for the duration had been rejected and that the preliminary draft of the message the Executive will deliver Thursday discussed the subject at length.

"I sincerely hope it will be left out of the President's program at least for the time being," said one member of the group, who preferred not to be named. "It is bound to touch off a fight that I believe is needless and may have unfortunate results."

Others expressed a conviction the new Congress would deal only with essential war legislation and would refuse to handle domestic measures.

"I'm afraid Social Security is a major part of the President's message, but I hope it isn't," commented one member. "It is going to be a difficult enough task as it is to retain control in the House with the reduced Democratic majority without wading into a fight that apparently will be lost."

Leaders of both parties in the House agreed that on matters directly related to the war, there would be no legislative difficulties.

Boost in Gas Price Urged

Immediate increase in the retail price of gasoline in Massachusetts—to enable the retail dealer to increase his profit margin and thereby "survive"—was requested of Washington authorities today by Frederick H. Moore, executive secretary of the Retail Gasoline Dealers' Ass'n of Massachusetts.

Moore declared that he received reports from the nation's capital that "A" coupons might soon be eliminated. He also called attention to the recent advance in the retail price of No. 1 and No. 2 fuel oils, and pointed out that if the "A" coupon is eliminated, the only way the retail gasoline dealer can survive will be an immediate boost in his margin of profits.

A minimum raise of 1.5 cents under present conditions, and an increase of a "much larger basis" if the "A" coupon is eliminated, is Moore's recommendation.

First of Post-War Autos To Duplicate '42 Models

NEW YORK, Jan. 5 (AP)—The American Machinist says in its current issue that all talk about a wonder car in the post-war era may be true, but the car the public first will buy after the war's end will be a duplicate of the 1942 model.

"At first blush," the publication says, 't'his may seem odd. But on examination, this statement is well founded. To design a completely new car, departing radically from previous models, would require at least two full years preparation.

"It will not be possible to wait that long to get into production of automobiles. It would be fatal to any chance of post-war prosperity to have the motor car industry virtually idle that length of time. . . . . The impatient public, deprived ofthe privilege of purchasing new cars over a considerable period, will be eager to get new cars as quickly as the industry can tool up to build them.

"The only logical thing to do in such a situation is for car makers to begin turning out 1942 models again."

Recent discussion of the automobile of the future had it running on 100-octane gasoline, having only a small part of the horse-power of present cars, weighing half as much as models of recent years, an engine in the rear and wide use of plastics to provide more space and comfort on the inside.

NAVY ACTS TO EASE HUB FUEL CRISIS AS COLD WAVE STRIKES

troleum Administrator Ickes by telephone that many institutions and war plants might have to shut down today.

J. L. Sauer, aide to Ickes, quickly released the 40,000 barrels and this supply is now being distributed.

Several Boston College buildings, also Boston English and South Boston High Schools, will now be able to remain open for the rest of the week at least.

The state's plight has reached a point where similar tight situations may recur, said Gov. Saltonstall.

"Our distribution system breaks down when there are less than 5,000,000 barrels of bunker oil in New England," he explained. "With less than that available, Springfield may have enough one day and Boston none; the next day, the situation may be reversed."

Civilian defense volunteers, at the request of Director John J. Walsh of the Boston public safety committee, started a survey of homes in the Roslindale-West Roxbury district this morning to determine how many families with coal heated houses will be willing to shelter their neighbors in times of severest crisis.

John P. McBride, head of the state division of necessaries of life, told the governor his office is receiving calls from hundreds of families appealing for help in obtaining oil.

In another move to alleviate the situation, New England OPA Director Backman, Eldon Shoup, rationing director, and Clyde C. Morrill, secretary of the New England Independent Oil Men's Ass'n, have gone to Washington to seek more range and No. 2 oil supplies for New England.

It was in Washington that Oil Administrator Ickes said the Army is turning over 200,000 steel drums for moving kerosene from the Southwest to the Boston area.

Ickes testified before a special Senate committee probing the oil and gasoline rationing system in an effort to assure the minimum supply needed for civilians.

"The situation will be worse before it's better," the oil czar said. He asked for added authority, and Sen. Burton (R.) of Ohio said he thought more unified control was necessary. More hearings will be held soon, Chairman Maloney (D.) of Connecticut promised.

$100,000 Fire Loss in Plymouth, N. H.

PLYMOUTH, N. H., Jan. 5 (AP)—Two three-story brick buildings and the Methodist Church were destroyed early today in a fire which caused damage estimated at more than $100,000.

The Keeler and Newbury blocks, housing stores, offices and apartments were swept by flames which spread to the church before they were brought under control.

Col. Ralih W. Caswell, superintendent of the state police, kept in touch with his men by two-way radio from Concord and obtained the only information available on the fire as all telephone lines were cut off frfom Plymouth.

Col. Caswell said the Keeler Block was occupied by O'Brien's clothing store, Percy Ayer's insurance office, Stevens Hardware and Peasley's drug store on the first floor and the Masonic lodge hall on the second floor, while the third floor was occupied by a family which fled down a fire-escape.

Telephone cables which ran along the rear of the building were snapped by falling bricks, Col. Caswell said, and an emergency crew was endeavoring to restore service.

Fire apparatus from Laconia, Bristol, Campton and Woodstock aided the Plymouth forces in battling the flames.

FUND SWINGS INTO ACTION AFTER PLEA FOR SACRIFICE

Greater Boston's United War Fund Campaign for $7,800,000 swung into action today after a gala, capacity-attended opening at Symphony Hall where Charles C. Cabot, Fund general chairman, sounded a keynote appeal for "sacrifice in keeping with that of the men in our armed forces."

The audience at the Special Gifts Division meeting also heard pleas by Henry R. Luce, editor of Time, Life and Fortune magazines, and Charles Francis Adams, Funds president, and a concert by the Boston Symphony Orchestra under direction of Dr. Serge Koussevitzky. The invocation was delivered by Rt. Rev. Richard J. Haber.

WOMEN TO MEET

Next event on the United War Fund calendar is a meeting of 500 women volunteers of the Educational Division at a "Dutch treat luncheon" at the University Club tomorrow. Dr. Martha Isabel Boger of Portsmouth, N. H., physician who was on active duty when the Japanese attacked Pearl Harbor, is scheduled as speaker.

"You and I and every citizen in Greater Boston are on trial this month to test the metal of which we are made," said Cabot. "War taxes should and will lay a heavy hand upon our spending power, but they should not upon our giving power.

"We will have to sacrifice much to put this campaign over the top. But is it anything beside what our sons and brothers and Allies are doing on the battlefronts all over the world?

"Maybe we can have only three gallons of gas a week. But how much gas have the British, the Russians or the Chinese? Little children are dropping in the streets of Greece from starvation. Russians are fighting and freezing to death. Hundreds of war prisoners are watching their lives go by hemmed in by barbed wire. Can't we sacrifice a bit?

WILL TO SACRIFICE

"I know you will not fail because I know that you have the willingness to sacrifice and the will to win. We have pointed the finger of 'too little too late' at many others. Let us not make the same mistake. Our battle cry must be, 'Give enough soon enough.'"

Luce said three characteristics marked the American spirit: love of freedom, a sense of project and faith in God and moral order.

It was the greatest mass launching since the war began and indicates what we can do if we set our minds to it.

JAP GUADALCANAL LANDING FAILED BUT SUPPLIES LEFT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5 (AP)—Secretary of the Navy Knox said today that the Japanese destroyers which reached waters off the northwestern end of Guadalcanal last Saturday apparently did not make a landing but did unload some metal drums of supplies, a few of which probably drifted ashore.

Next morning, the secretary told a press conference, American motor torpedo boats and planes from our Guadalcanal airfield in the Solomons went out where the destroyers had been and sank all the drums they could find.

The secretary said the Japanese destroyer squadron had been under attack for about 275 miles during its approach to Guadalcanal with the purpose of landing supplies and possibly reinforcements for the Japanese troops virtually stranded there.

Originally there were 10 destroyers. They were attacked early Sunday afternoon south of Shortland island by a flight of Army Flying Fortresses which, however, observed no bomb hits.

This attack was reported Sunday in a Navy communique which also described an attack by dive bombers on a destroyer detachment northwest of Rendova island, which is about 200 miles from Guadalcanal.

Knox said the destroyers attacked at Rendova and those attacked south of Shortland were the same and that the eight which survived the dive bomber assault—one was set afire and one was probably sunk—were the same eight which yesterday's Navy communique described as having reached the "vicinity" of northwestern Guadalcanal where the Japanese forces are concentrated.

"The best information we have is that they didn't make a landing, but were driven off," Knox said.

He noted yesterday's communique said that not only was one enemy destroyer definitely torpedoed by U. S. Mosquito boats but three possible hits were scored on two others.

Asked for comment on the Navy's announcement Sunday that an American battleship had shot down 32 enemy planes when heavily attacked by Japanese aircraft off Santa Cruz Island in the South Pacific, last October, Knox said that "the development of anti-aircraft defenses seems to have reached a very satisfactory point on our battleships—and in fact on all our ships."

"You mean we won't have a Repulse or Prince of Wales?" a reporter inquired referring to the loss of two British battleships to Japanese bombers early in the war.

"I'm predicting nothing," Knox said, "All I can say is we will give them a hell of a fight."

Capt. Leland P. Lovette, Navy public relations chief, said the main reliance of Navy anti-aircraft ordnance is a five-inch dual purpose gun, which Knox called a "perfectly splendid weapon," capable of firing against aerial or surface targets.

Japs Build New Naval Base Near Shanghai

CHUNGKING, Jan. 5 (AP)—A Chinese army spokesman said today that the Japanese have completed the construction of a naval supply base on Siangshan Bay, 120 miles south of Shanghai in Chekiang Province, and recalled to his listeners he had told them several weeks ago that such a project would serve as a defense against possible Allied naval attacks.

CAPT. ELMER GLIDDEN, JR.
Hub Marine Gets Navy Cross

2 Hub Heroes Win Marine Decorations

For their heroism in aerial combats with the Japs, Maj. John F. Dobbin, 30, of Hobart st., Brighton, and Capt. Elmer G. Glidden, Jr., 27, of Montview st., West Roxbury, Marine Corps officers, are possessors of the Navy Cross today.

Maj. Dobbin

Both were decorated in ceremonies at the Naval Air Station, North Island, at San Diego, Cal., and received their awards from Maj-Gen. Holland M. Smith of the Marines.

Maj. Dobbin, a B. C. graduate and son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Dobbin, was honored for valiant fighting in the Solomons. He married Ellen Virginia French of Brighton in 1938 and the couple have two children. Recently he wrote his wife that he shot down two Jap planes for her and two for each of the children, for a total of six.

For taking over the command of a Marine Corps air squadron in the battle of Midway after his leader's plane dived into the funnel of a Jap carrier, Capt. Glidden was given his Navy Cross.

As a student at Mechanic Arts High, he was a star first baseman. Later he studied at New Hampton School and Renssalaer Polytechnic Institute.

Berlin Claims Red Caucasus Base Seized

BERLIN (from German broadcasts), Jan. 5 (AP)—The German high command said today Nazi forces had captured a Russian base in the western Caucasus in a surprise assault, but reported the Red army attacking on all other fronts from the Arctic to the Caucasus.

The communique did not identify the base declared captured. It said the Germans still were engaged in heavy defensive fighting in the Don area and had repelled Russian attacks southeast of Lake Ilmen, in the Volkhov and Leningrad areas and on the Kandalakcha front.

HITLER'S GREATEST DISASTER DUE THIS YEAR, SAYS BEVIN

LONDON, Jan. 5 (AP)—"There is no doubt in my mind that before many weeks Hitler will be faced with the greatest disaster of the war," Ernest Bevin, labor minister and member of Britain's war cabinet, said today in a speech at a government training center.

"Everybody should be resolute and say that 1943 is Britain's big chance—a chance to take the weight off Russia—and I hope it will be a chance to get in the knock-out blow," Bevin said.

The labor minister declared that the German armies in Russia are in jeopardy at this moment.

He said the task now was to combine Britain's First Army in Tunisia and her Eighth Army in Libya to oust Hitler from Africa, "and every man and woman should have the feeling that now is the time to put in the big punch. It is the last round and the last mile that counts."

HITLER STRIVES TO MAKE MAJOR FRONT IN TUNISIA

By WES GALLAGHER

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, Jan. 5 (AP)—Adolf Hitler's attempt to keep the Mediterranean blocked to Allied shipping has turned the Tunisian war into a major effort, with thousands of German and Italian troops deployed from Bizerte to the Tripolitanian border along with part of the first-line strength of the German air force.

This purely personal conclusion is based on a 2100-mile trip to the war front in a jeep, topped with another 700 miles of travel in a Flying Fortress, much of it on a bombing mission over Tunis.

These are the main impressions I got in traveling over the front:

1—Rain and the constant threat of rain make Allied tank warfare impossible in northern Tunisia until late February. There are only a few main roads leading into Tunis and Bizerte and the ground between them is nothing but muck which would mire the lightest tank.

2—The Germans, with short lines of communication, a perimeter defense of the two ports and a great concentration of artillery and aerial protection from Sardinia and Sicily, could halt any infantry assault with murderous losses.

3—In the north land warfare has stagnated with neither side able to take a definite initiative.

4—Despite the advantage of established bases in Sicily and Sardinia within easy reach of the front, the German air force is losing its punch in the face of Allied opposition and is only a shadow of the terrible weapon it was in Greece and France.

5—The lack of airfields is handicapping the Allied air effort, but the military punishment being dealt out by Flying Fortresses, Lockheed Lightning (P-38) fighters and RAF attacks is ten times as effective militarily as the blows of the German air force.

6—French troops, with a total disregard of politics and antiquated equipment, are fighting with great gallantry, particularly at Pont De Fahs and in the south along a winding irregular line through the mountains toward Gafsa.

7—The Germans are making great preparations for the defense of their positions in Tunisia.

Papua Japs Face New Drive by U. S.

AUSTRALIA, Jan. 5 (AP)—An attack to clean the Mikado's men out of Sananada Point, their last foothold in southeastern New Guinea, was shaped by Allied forces today.

"We are regrouping our troops preparatory to attack," a communique from Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters said tersely.

The headquarters announcement told of far-reaching air activity, with the Japanese airdrome at Lae, in northwestern New Guinea, suffering the heaviest blows from Allied bombers. Advices from the front also told of an air prelude to the tank and infantry drive massing against the Sananada salient.

Medium bombers roared in at low altitudes and dropped 300-pounders on Japanese machine-gun nests and light attack bombers swept over the area to strafe enemy positions. Fires were started in the Japanese-held positions.

Front-line dispatches also said that there was still intermittent fighting in the Buna sector where 50 more Japs had been killed in mopping-up operations.

Allied attack planes and medium bombers, raiding the Lae airdrome and installations, destroyed three grounded craft and started fires in the hangar and building area, headquarters said.

An enemy supply boat was strafed by an Allied reconnaissance unit in the harbor at Finschhafen, northeast of Lae; an enemy schooner in Jacquinot bay, on the southeast coast of New Britain, was machine-gunned, and 1000-pound bombs were laid on the Gasmata, New Britain, airdrome yesterday, it was reported.

Tregaskis Sees Bomber Blast Japs in Solomons

tiresome. There's something new each time."

Ahead of us, in the transparent nose of the ship, Staff Sergt. John B. Frees of Oil City, Pa., took the canvas cover from the bomb sight. There would a night's work for him.

Lieut. Lewis explained our mission was a sort of "Washing Machine Charlie in reverse." That anomalous phrase meant that like "Washing Machine Charlie," the Jap with the high-pitched desynchronized motor who occasionally came over to bomb Guadalcanal at night, we aimed not only at damaging the enemy's installations, but also at keeping him awake and alerted and preventing any night work on his construction projects. To do this successfully we would probably be in the air over the enemy drome for hours. Of course, that had elements of danger.

Ahead of us, a black, mountainous land mass marked the end of the silvery sheet of water we had been traversing. Bougainville! We droned over the mountains and our curving course was low enough so that we could make out the jungly mat of trees that spread over the country.

We circled again, then came out over a silvery rectangle in the midst of the jungle. Four light lines marked the boundaries of the rectangle. It was Kahili airdrome. One line was the runway. The others, taxi strips and revetments.

READY WITH BOMBS

The bombardier, Sergt. Frees, bent over his eyepiece and worked his dials. We were coming closer to the target.

"Ready with bombs!" said Sergt. Frees on the interphone. "Bomb bay doors open!"

"O. K.," said Capt. Charters.

Now we were almost directly over the target. Sergt. Frees reached for his bomb release lever. The yellow lights on his switch panel, indicating bombs in the bay, blinked: "Bombs away." I saw the bright, white flashes as they struck into the dark woods below, in a supply dump area.

I went back into the waist of the plane to try to see better when the next salvo of bombs fell. We were swinging in another wide circle now, getting ready to make another run on Kahili.

One could see the target better from back here. Sergt. Colgin opened the trap in the belly of the plane where cameras are sometimes operated, and I bent over the hole to watch our next bombing run.

Then again, "bomb bay doors open!" and "bombs away!" I saw the white flashes prick the blackness of the woods below, next to the airport, in an aircraft dispersal area.

Still, there was plenty of time. We were keeping the Jap awake and in his foxhole, besides inflicting damage to his camp area. I was glad to see this, for often, I had sat on the ground, on the other end of the picture, and listened helplessly while Japanese bombs rattled down.

Next time we came to make a run, the narrow white cone of a searchlight braced against the sky, looking for us. Then another beam joined the search. Bright blue light shone into the slot in the belly of our plane. Then the lights snapped off.

We were coming over to drop again. This time, I leaned far over the slot, saw the shadow-like ladder of bombs moving silently toward the earth. Seconds passed, and then one, two, three, four, five bright flashes of light sprung out at the end of the runway, very near the spot whence the searchlights had come.

"Good work," said Capt. Charters to Sergt. Frees on the interphone. "I bet they're glad they put that searchlight out."

Then we crossed an expanse of water and were over Ballale island, a heart-shaped dark blot on the sea. Here the Japs have been working to finish construction work on another airport; one of their chain in the Solomons.

BOMB FOR 2 HOURS

"I see the runway, sir," said Sergt. Frees to Capt. Charters.

"O. K.," said the captain. "We'll come back and make a run." There was plenty of time, and we wanted to keep the Japs awake as long as possible. There was no anti-aircraft, no Jap planes in the vicinity. We rode over the airport twice, then came around to make our bombing run. The bombs released, sailed into the woods next to the runway, in a camp area. Meanwhile, an eager crew had dumped bottles from the ship's waist; American souvenirs to frighten Mr. Jap.

Our bays were not yet empty. We came back to Kahili and dropped another explosive missile on the Jap, and then, banking across his searchlight beam, headed for home.

We had been dropping bombs on the enemy airports for two solid hours.

We landed in the dawn at Guadalcanal. Other B-17's were coming in from night attacks. They had hit Buka airport, and Munda Bay airdrome on New Georgia, while we bombed Kahill and Ballale. Altogether, another night's excellent work in the grim struggle to prevent the Japs moving vast new air strength into the Solomons.

to see, which is that runway, and it stands out like a sore thumb.

We go across it and let the bombs drop. Do we get that runway? We not only get it, but we get a fighter plane taking off on it. That plane will never take off on any runway again.

Our own plane, "Babe, the Big Blue Ox," hangs a little behind. In case there is any part of that runway the others have missed, we are going to get it. We find one gap on a little stretch they missed. We go for that and smash it up.

We have done our job and all we have to do now is to run home as fast as we can, which is very fast. Some ack-ack bursts, but not very near to our plane. One plane, "Poison Ivy," gets a burst under the right wing and the blast lifts its wings almost vertical, but it gets no holes. It straightens out and comes along home with us.

FIVE MESSERS APPEAR

Just as we leave we see the medium bombers coming in much below us. That is their affair. We don't know it at the time, but those five Messerschmitts, which hovered above us and did not attack us, went after the mediums. The mediums had a rough time and shot down one fighter.

On that field were 20 fighters, several bombers and night fighters. Most of them are smashed up now and no fighters can get off that runway to resist other bombings by the RAF, which also took off for Crete today and is over Tunisia, too.

Soon we see land again. We are over the Nile delta, looking down at farmers plowing those marvelously fertile fields. It is very green and looks good.

Our top gunner is a staff sergeant with the fascinating name of Joe Domino. The name is no less fascinating than Joe himself.

On the trip to Crete he starts his story of his family—about his father, who has a barber shop near Carnegie Tech in Pittsburgh, and about his cousin, who is an air-conditioning engineer.

"Excuse me," says Joe as we come into the danger zone and he climbs into his turret. All he has to do is shoot down those five Messerschmitts should they attack. Outside of that his time is his own.

I hope it is a big day at that barber shop when this dispatch arrives. Joe's father should feel very proud of him as he is doing a swell job here. Joe would like to send word that he is well.

SAYS MAN CAN NOW USE POWER OF 1,000 MINDS

A strange man in Los Angeles known as "The Voice of Two Worlds," reveals the story of a remarkable system that often leads to almost unbelievable improvement in power of mind, achievement of brilliant business and professional success and new happiness. Many report improvement in health. Others tell of increased bodily strength, magnetic personality, courage and poise.

The man, a well-known explorer and geographer, tells how he found these strange methods in far-off and mysterious Tibet, often called the land of miracles by the few travelers permitted to visit it. He discloses how he learned rare wisdom and long hidden practices, closely guarded for three thousand years by the sages, which enabled many to perform amazing feats. He maintains that these immense powers are latent in all of us, and that methods for using them are now simplified so they can be used by almost any person with ordinary intelligence.

He maintains that man, instead of being limited by a one-man-power-mind, has within him the mind power of a thousand men or more as well as the energy power of the universe which can be used in his daily affairs. He states that this sleeping giant of mind power, when awakened, can make him capable of surprising accomplishments, from the prolonging of youth, to success in many fields.

The author states the time has come for this long hidden system to be disclosed to the Western world, and offers to send his amazing 9,000-word treatise — which reveals many startling results—to sincere readers of this paper, free of cost or obligation. For your free copy, address the Institute of Mentalphysics, 213 South Hobart Blvd., Dept. E152, Los Angeles, Calif. Readers are urged to write promptly, as only a limited number of the free treatises have been printed.

HUB AIR RAID WOULD NOT BRING PANIC, EXPERTS SAY

a very short time after that appalling accident.

Many of the patients could not, of course, be questioned until they had recovered from the shock of their experiences and many others lost their voices, due to the poisoning of their nervous systems by gas and smoke.

The three psychiatrists who undertook the study at the Boston City Hospital are all already quite well known for their outstanding work in psychiatry. They are Dr. H. Houston Merritt, Dr. Raymond Adams and Dr. Alexandra Adler, daughter of the late famed Dr. Alfred Adler of Vienna, one of the best known psychiatrists in the world, who has been working for the past eight years at the City Hospital.

From their study, they conclude that mental disturbances due to the Grove holocaust are—so far, at least—negligible.

Practically all their individual reports on the Cocoanut Grove patients end with the crisp but reassuring notation: "No evidence of cerebral involvement."

The following "case histories," as they are known in the medical world, were collected from various hospitals and are fairly typical.

REMEMBERS EVENTS

This one is that of a male patient—single—age 33—who is an Army officer:

"Patient remembers the events of the day of the fire. He was able to escape from one of the doors without having lost consciousness but suffered severe burns of hands and face. He came to hospital in automobile and remembers all the events on the accident floor and after being sent to ward ——. He thinks he may have been a little confused on Sunday (the day after the fire) but he remembers various members of the army corps visiting him. He thinks he has been definitely clear since about Tuesday after the fire. He is now oriented as to time, place and person. His memory is clear except for partial clouding for the 24-48 hours after the injury. He seems to be in good spirirts and apparently not unduly upset by the experionce.

Impression: No evidence of cerebral involvement."

This next case history is that of a woman—single—age 30.

"Memory for events before accident is clear. She was sitting in Cocoanut Grove near stage when she heard someone yell "fire" and saw the flames. She and her friend went to the door that was locked. She lost consciousness and recovered her senses in accident ward. She remembers being undressed and washed and then lapsed into coma, or sleep, and came to in ward — on Sunday morning.

MENTALLY CLEAR

"She thinks she has been mentally clear since Sunday or Monday. She was not able to see for two days because eyes were swollen closed. She could not talk for ten days. Voice has almost returned to normal. She has superficial burns of face and nose, more severe burns on right forearm. Her companion was killed in the fire. Patient thinks that she has not experienced any emotional shock as result of the accident.

Neurological examination—Negative.

Impression: No evidence of cerebral involvement.

The next case history is that of a girl, 22 years old, who is a factory worker and lives with her family. Her father has been dead for 20 years. She ended her education with her second year of high school. There were burns on both her legs and right arm.

"Patient has a marked retrograde amnesia. Her friend said that they were together in the ladies room, but all patient remembers was sitting on a table and having a rye with coke. Next thing she remembers was talking to people in the hospital on Sunday. She is still hoarse, was hoarse from the beginning.

"Felt good when she came to, no pain. Her eyes were swollen so that she could not look out for two days but they did not bother her. Thinking back to the event does not bother her in the least. Is looking forward to going to another night club, "no great damage has been done to me." No dreams. She asked about her friends when she came to.

Temperature went up to 100 on the third day. Ever since has been flat. On sulfa drugs."

Jury Frees Girl Who Killed Dad

Hackensack, N. J., Jan. 5 (AP) —The Bergen County grand jury reported to Judge Walter W. Weber today that it had voted no indictment against Laura Matriss, 17-year-old East Rutherford High School girl, who stabbed her father to death during a family argument Dec. 27.

The jury debated less than an hour in deciding against prosecuting the girl.

The girl told Bergen County prosecutor's detectives that when she came home Dec. 27 she found her father in an intoxicated condition choking her mother. She ran to a neighbor's house to call police.

When she returned, she said the struggle was still going on. She seized a knife in the kitchen and stabbed her father twice. He was dead when police arrived.

Enactment of new legislation which Gov. Saltonstall will recommend as a result of the Grove disaster will be drawn so as to affect not only Boston but all communities of the state now lacking safeguards, it was indicated today.

GOVERNOR SEES TOBIN

The Governor's plan to ask the General Court for uniform measures regulating places of public assembly was announced on the eve of the convening of the incoming Legislature tomorrow. Earlier, Gov. Saltonstall conferred with Mayor Tobin and members of the Boston Licensing Commission

The governor did not explain in detail what recommendations he would make for Boston where the public safety departments come under divided authority.

He said only that he would seek to end the "lack of co-ordination" cited by the grand jury which indicted 10 men in connection with the night club fire last Nov. 28.

It was pointed out, that in view of the public interest in the Grove investigation, new regulations to insure greater safety for the public will be applicable to communities which now lack sufficient legal public safety protection.

TOBIN SEEKS HOME RULE

The Boston License Commission and the police commissioner are appointed by the Governor, while the fire and building departments come under jurisdiction of the mayor.

In his address to the City Council, Mayor Tobin said the licensing and police departments should be brought under city control, "because it is not logical to deny Boston her right of home rule."

The mayor recommended to the council a $200 increase for all firemen below the rank of district chief and all policemen below the rank of captain.

While awaiting the governor's message to the legislature, state and county prosecuting officials continued their investigation into the night club fire today following arraignment of 9 of the 10 indicted defendants in Suffolk Superior Court.

Fire Lt. Frank Linney, charged with willful neglect of duty and with being an accessory after the fact of manslaughter, will appear for a hearing Friday.

GROVE CASE THURSDAY

Presentation of additional Cocoanut Grove evidence is scheduled to be made to the new grand jury by Thursday, state prosecutors said. The grand jury selection is scheduled to be completed today when three more names will be drawn at City Hall to replace members who were unable to serve.

The office of Dist. Atty. Foley announced that routine cases will be presented to the jurors today and tomorrow, and that Atty.-Gen. Robert T. Bushnell probably would be ready to present more Grove evidence by Thursday.

A NEW YEAR PRAYER

To Thee, oh Lord, in humble prayer
We bow our heads this New Year's day
And ask Thy guidance, ever fair,
Will follow us along life's way.

Give us the strength to carry on
May Christian banners ever fly
Toward victory that must be won,
That liberty shall never die.

Oh Lord, upon this troubled earth
Our faith and hope must never cease,
And may the coming year give birth
To sweet and everlasting peace.

Amen.

"SO MUCH MORE SUDS sure save elbow grease in washin'!"

Mrs. Beatrice Nosworthy of Long Beach, Long Island tells her husband about the "milk-bottle suds test" and Super Suds, the "more suds" soap

"At first I told Henry I just didn't feel right about havin' the wash go through so quick. But, lands' sakes, everything was clean as could be, and I guess you just have to lay it to all those EXTRA, LONGER-LASTIN' SUDS I get from Super Suds. Those suds certainly get after dirt and grime. Like the radio says, they're sure 'the suds with super-do!'"

LADIES, doesn't that Super Suds bottle full of THICK, WHIPPED-CREAMY SUDS in the picture just fill you with longing? If you're like most women about washing, it sure does. Because from all our talks with women, SUDS AND MORE SUDS... LONGER-LASTING SUDS come 'way up at the top of the list of things they'd like from their wash-day soaps.

Well, it took a lot of doing to make Super Suds even sudsier... but now we're proud to say... here are MORE SUDS AND LONGER-LASTING SUDS in the new sudsier Super Suds. SUDS SO THICK AND SPUNKY they won't stand any nonsense from even the most stubborn dirt... SUDS that'll save you backaches and heartaches on wash-day. Get a box of Super Suds, make the "milk-bottle suds test" and see for yourself!

Make the "milk-bottle suds test"... It's so easy!

Just drop two teaspoons of your regular wash-day soap and a glass of water into a milk-bottle. Do the same with Super Suds in another milk-bottle. Even hard or cold water will do. Shake both bottles. See if you don't get MORE SUDS, RICHER SUDS, LONGER-LASTING SUDS FROM SUPER SUDS!

"Here's Henry remarkin' to me about how white and fresh the table-cloth looks, even if it is old. I said those RICH, LONG-LASTIN' SUDS do all the whitenin' I need in my wash. No more of those bleaches for me. I can tell there's nothing strong in Super Suds... just those THICK SUDS... because it's so easy on materials and my hands."

FLOODS O' SUDS FOR DISHES AND DUDS

Get new sudsier Super Suds in the economical GIANT box!

"My husband says you'd never dream I was chief cook and bottle washer for the family from the looks of my hands. And I am proud of 'em, if I do say so. But I certainly wasn't until I began usin' Super Suds for the dishes and wash. Super Suds seems to get things clean just by bein' so extra-sudsy, and not by anything strong in it. Makes it mighty easy on hands."

Beauty

YOU CAN BE BEAUTIFUL—Joan Leslie's hair has naturally a coppery blondness . . . and Arline Gould says today that any of those wonderful, nature's-gift blond shades may be duplicated by a special vegetable oil lightener, adaptation of a professional, scientific method . . . with actual benefit to the hair as well as beauty!

Duplicate Blond Shades at Home

By ARLINE GOULD

YOU MAY WONDER how the gals in the movies change around their hair shades from light to dark . . . with a few stops in between . . . without doing some damage to those thick, glossy manes. The answer is undoubtedly that they use one of the modern, scientific methods which is not injurious to the hair, and in fact, puts it in better condition than it was!

While these quick and radical changes should only be undertaken by a professional (for instance, if you've over-bleached your hair at home, and want it exactly the original shade, or a less harsh or brassy tint, say a quiet ash or chestnut blond, such a task should not be attempted by your onesy) . . . you can lighten your hair, dash highlights of gold into it, or change it to any lighter shade you desire at home, by using a vegetable oil lightener.

To our knowledge, this is one of the very first if not the first adaptation of a fine professional process—for home use. With it goes all the exactitude of shade you like (there is an amazing range from which to choose), the certain results, and even reconditioning for the hair shafts (the vegetable oils take care of this) . . . so you can achieve a beautiful and natural effect. And it's only 50 cents.

If your hair is a drab and uninteresting light brown or blonde shade . . . we suggest this little trick. Buy the shade of vegetable oil lightener which is supposed to yield the exact color hair you actually have . . . and discover what prismatic highlights and vividness and sheen you'll acquire!

For shopping information on this vegetable oil lightener, phone Arline Gould, LIBerty 4000, except the week-end, or write, care of the Boston Evening American, inclosing a stamped, self - addressed envelope.

FLARING PEPLUM RETURNS IN NEW STYLES FOR SPRING

By BETTINA BEDWELL

YOU will notice when you look around at the spring clothes that the designers have made use of every trick they can think of to give these things a softer, more truly feminine look. And one of the tricks most often used is that of the flaring peplum.

This is a very old, a tried and true device for making a waistline look slim and spanable by masculine arms. And this spring it is to be found on dresses, suits and coats. If the hips are ample, a peplum will often act as a concealing agent for this girth. If they're slim why, of course, everything is perfect.

Miss Dulin has sketched one of the new peplumed coats for you. Made of smooth, hard, navy blue twill, this coat is slim and fitted, and closed invisibly. The peplum is rather wide and flared by pleats at the front. A self-material belt ties at the waistline. Crisp white pique covers the revers and the collar. A white felt postilion hat with a navy blue lace veil for trimming is shown with the coat.

Best Food Buys

By MARTHA LEE

MANY HOMEMAKERS are in a quandary these days about making up their market lists. So we believe a few suggestions about current good buys will be helpful.

The United States Department of Agriculture in their latest report tells us that the good old standbys like apples, winter squash, old-crop northern cabbage, turnip, potatoes and onions are the leading best vegetable buys at the moment. Grapefruit, oranges and tangerines are cheaper right now—and, incidentally, they are to be featured as the Victory Food Special from January 7 through 16. Native apples offer good value, also.

Poultry meat supplies have withstood the heavy holiday demands remarkably well and come to the rescue of meal planners harassed by empty beef, pork and lamb platters.

Corned meats suggest an occasional solution to the meat problem. Various corned meats are being displayed, particularly pork products—from pigs' snouts to tails—everything but the squeal.

Fish landings indicate generous supplies of pollock, whiting and redfish. Of these three, pollock reaches retail counters most frequently and in liberal amount.

Now for some recipes showing how some of those good available foods may be used:

CHICKEN STEW WITH DUMPLINGS

1 ½ to 5 lb. fowl, cut-up
½ cup diced celery
1 bay leaf
2 tsp. salt
⅛ tsp. pepper
2 tbsp. minced parsley
1½ qt. hot water
3 whole cloves
1 sliced medium onion
Dumplings

Combine all ingredients but dumplings; simmer, covered, 3 to 4 hours, or until tender. Thicken chicken stock if desired. Drop dumplings on top of boiling stew, cover tightly, and cook as directed. Makes 6 servings.

DUMPLINGS FOR STEW

2 cups sifted flour
½ tsp. baking powder
1 tsp. salt
1 tbsp. shortening
1 cup milk

Mix and sift dry ingredients. Cut in fat; add milk, stirring quickly to make a soft dough. Drop by small spoonfuls on top of stew, making sure the dough rests on pieces of meat or vegetables; they should not settle into the liquid. Cover tightly and steam for 12 minutes. Makes 6 servings—or 12 dumplings.

CREAMED POTATOES

4 cups diced, cooked, peeled potatoes
½ tsp. salt
¼ tsp. pepper
2 cups top milk or light cream
4 tbsp. butter or margarine
1 tsp. minced parsley

Combine potatoes, salt, butter, pepper and milk in a skillet, and cook very slowly until the milk is tatoes are hot. Sprinkle with the parsley and serve. Makes 6 servings.

DUTCH HOT SLAW

1½ lbs. shredded cabbage (6 cups)
1 tbsp. butter or margarine
2 eggs, beaten
⅓ cup vinegar
½ tsp. salt
1½ tbsp. granulated sugar
½ tsp. paprika
¼ cup water
¼ cup light cream

Cook cabbage. Drain, place in serving dish, and keep hot. Meanwhile melt the butter in the top of a double boiler, then add the eggs, vinegar, salt, sugar, paprika and water beaten together and cook over boiling water until thickened, while stirring. Remove from heat, add cream, beat with egg beater until fluffy and pour over hot cabbage. Makes 6 servings.

The Correct Thing

By Elinor Ames

WHEN A LADY is with an escort she does not give her order directly to the waiter. Instead she tells her escort what she wants and he gives the complete order.

Love

And Marriage

Won't Support His Family

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I've been married seven years and have three small children. These years have been one big struggle to me, trying to get along on my husband's small salary. He is not a skilled worker and doesn't speak English very well. In spite of this he has always provided for us and we've never had to ask anyone for help.

He has changed since the last baby was born, stays away three and four days and comes home drunk and without money. We don't quarrel because I am against arguing in the presence of children. But now I'm about at the end of my rope. He has told me definitely that he is not going to support us any longer? which means I'll have to go to work

My greatest worry is the children. What can I do with them if I go to work?

He's in 3-A in the draft, and if I divorce him will he be placed in 1-A and be taken into the Army? In that case would I be entitled to an allotment for myself and the three children?

DREADFULLY WORRIED.

It will not be necessary for you to divorce your husband to have him transferred from the 3-A to the 1-A classification. He will probably be put in that class when it's known he refuses to be responsible for his family. You can then claim an allowance for yourself and the children.

Meanwhile, consult the free Legal Aid Sciety and they will give you some helpful suggestions, and refer you to a home where your children may be cared for while you are at work.

AH, SPRING . . . though it seems impossible that it'll ever force its way through this deep freeze and sharply raw atmosphere . . . the dress designers are optimistic about it, even before the robin and the crocus. So they've already hung on their racks completed models like this one. America's Arch-Enemy

REP. ROY O. WOODRUFF of Michigan is one of the millions of Americans who want Japan crushed in the shortest possible time.

He demands more supplies for Australia, more assistance to China and quick help for General Wavell in re-opening the Burma Road.

"In my opinion we have been displaying very poor judgment in our handling of the whole Pacific situation," he declares.

"We've been just fooling along. We haven't got the Japs cleaned out of Kiska. We haven't cleaned them out of the Solomons or New Guinea. In fact, the Japs are digging in there as elsewhere, and we are letting them consolidate from the Aleutians to Guadalcanal."

This is not a reflection on our fighting sons in the Pacific war area. They are fighting as Americans have never fought before, suffering almost unbelievable hardships and shedding their blood without protest or complaint.

It is a reflection on those at home who are not giving the men on the Asiatic front the support they deserve and must have.

Representative Woodruff goes on to say that:—

"The Japs hold more land today than the entire area of Europe, and it is a land rich in everything needed to conduct a war—rubber, tin, petroleum, coal and iron.

"They even have seized 90 per cent of the world's sources of quinine—the drug necessary for health in the tropics."

Such revelations should not discourage Americans who have always won their greatest victories when they had apparently insurmountable obstacles to overcome.

On the contrary, these cold facts should awaken every victory-minded person in this country and cause him to face the menace of Japan realistically and with the grimmest of grim determination.

We learn from no less an authority than Prime Minister John Curtin of Australia that "the United Nations in the Pacific are being denied the resources for their total war, and resources are being reserved by Japan for building up her power not only to wage war but also to resist an offensive."

It would be tremendously and needlessly costly in money and blood for this country to temporize with Japan until that arch-enemy has doubled her strength and capacity for harm.

THE VICTORY TAX drives the war home to every American who earns more than $12 a week.

This new levy, which supplements the regular income tax, is a flat 5 per cent assessment on all incomes over $634 a year, and in cases where the income is from other sources than wages or salaries, the Victory Tax must be paid in a lump sum by March 15, 1944.

Henceforth, the tax money will be taken out of pay envelopes by employers and forwarded to the Government, even if part of the money was earned in the latter part of 1942.

Some of the money thus extracted can be recovered, for the Victory Tax law contains a provision for part of the contribution to be given back to the payer.

These refunds may be taken either after the war or by applying the "tax credits" in 1944 toward reduction of the individual's income tax under certain specified conditions.

For instance, a single person is granted a credit of 25 per cent of the Victory Tax he has paid, providing the amount does not exceed $500.

And a married person is allowed a 40 per cent credit of the year's Victory Tax payments, plus 2 per cent extra credit for each dependent so long as the claim does not exceed $1000 and $100 for each dependent.

Taxpayers who do not desire to collect their refunds until after the war would do well to keep records of the amount of their contributions.

THE BIGGEST EMPLOYER in the world is our own Uncle Sam. None can touch him. He is supreme in every respect.

According to the Civil Service Commission, civilian employment in the Executive branch of the Federal Government totaled 2,687,993 in October, an increase of 137,619 over September.

And there is every indication that the end is nowhere in sight!

Unquestionably, a great many of these Federal workers are necessary and should therefore be retained.

But it is going to be hard to convince the average taxpaying American that the President has to have 2,687,993 CIVILIAN aides and assistants.

The new Congress would help both the war effort and the bank accounts of the millions of persons who are working in shipyards, ammunition plants and other mills and factories if it made a careful survey of the employment situation in Washington and forced the horde of useless and ornamental employes to enlist in the armed forces or get jobs in defense industries.

On the Side

Dear as remembered kisses after death
And sweet as those by hopeless fancy feigned
On lips that are for others.
—TENNYSON.

THIS STANZA is from Mr. Tennyson's poem, "Tears, Idle Tears." I don't care for the poem as a whole, but am an admirer of the lines quoted above. I don't think Tennyson ever wrote better verse . . . How many legs has a centipede? A hundred, you say. Boy, you are away off. A centipede has only 40 legs. Maybe you could use this gag to win a few wagers from non-readers of this department. You could catch a centipede and carry him around in a tin box to prove your point . . . After struggling for 20 minutes the other day to think of the name of Libby Holman's first hit song it suddenly came to me today that it was "Body and Soul" . . . A young red-haired California matron says she has "Only Forever" engraved on her wedding ring. Also, she says she has a canary named Jitterbug. No canary is ever a jitterbug at heart. Canary experts say that these birds hate swing and jazz music so much that the continual playing of it in their vicinity will give them a nervous breakdown.

SPRING BORN: Now comes another expert and says the spring-born children are the most intelligent. This expert's name is Dr. Florence Goodenough. I've read so much about how smart the spring-born are and how dumb the summer-born are that I'm beginning to wonder how, as a summer-born person, I have been able to make a living all these years.

ALMOST CONFIDENTIAL: Flash! A resident of California named Mrs. Larry Johns bills herself for lectures to clubwomen as "The Female Walter Winchell" . . . A woman in San Francisco has a recipe for something called "Potato Doughnuts," which she values at $10,000. Why don't you try to originate a valuable recipe, lady? I know of a man who ran a restaurant in the West who had a recipe for Hungarian goulash that made him rich . . . Recently I asked: "What became of the vaudeville magicians?" In answer, Princess Nola Kerma writes: "Prince Eriel and myself are still doing our magician acts at night clubs. The prince runs a 36-inch steel needle and 30 feet of ribbon completely through my body. It is a very good illusion." Sounds like a good illusion, but my favorite night club act is still that of the fellow who drinks a glass pitcher full of beer at one gulp and then eats the pitcher.

PASSING BY: Ann Harding. One of the two film stars whose fathers were in the regular Army of the United States. The other is Gloria Swanson . . . Pearl Hickman, sister of Art Hickman, the bandmaster who first introduced jazz music to polite society. Miss Hickman is said to have the smallest feet of any young woman of her age and size in San Francisco. She is also possessed of a symmetry of limb which is said to exceed in beauty, etc., that of Marlene Dietrich.

COLORS: If you wear a blue serge suit and a gold-colored tie when interviewing a man about a position or making a sale, this color combination will put him in an amiable mood. So states a color expert. The same gentleman says if a girl wears an orange-colored blouse or dress it aids very much in bringing a man to the point of proposing marriage. The psychology of colors is very interesting. A fellow who has spent a lifetime selling tip sheets at race track entrances once told me that when his sheet was white he sold hardly any to women, but when he changed the color to either blue or green the ladies began buying in great numbers.

ASIDES: Now, sir, take the shape of your wife's face. How near to perfection is it? To find out, get a ruler or tape measure. Then line the little lady up against the wall. If the length of her face equals three times the length of her nose that is good. She should have the width of an eye between her eyes. Her upper and lower lip should be the same width. Her face across the cheek should be twice the length of her nose . . . What is the origin of the word "cute"? Our feminine friends adapt this word to a wide variety of things, persons and situations. Say they: "What a cute hat!" "Isn't that a cute story?" "What a cute horse!" "Isn't he a cute fellow!" And so on and on. The six words most overworked by women are: 1—Darling! 2—Cute. 3—Thrilling. 4—Adorable. 5—Smart (referring to clothes). 6—Definitely.

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS: Q—Did you really mean that Hedy La Marr was not glamorous enough to play a wild native girl and that she should be playing young matrons? A—I didn't say anything about Hedy's not being glamorous, as she certainly is. I said she should be playing glamorous young matrons, as she is not the type to portray wild native women. Hedy is what you might call "a woman of the world type." She is more like Garbo than she is like Dorothy Lamour. Q—Do you recall a vaudeville actor named Al Herman? A—I remember a black-face comedian of that name whose slogan was "The Assassin of Grief." I also know an ex-middleweight fighter named Al Herman, who is now a film director. The latter is the only married man in Hollywood who wears a wedding ring.

URGES ALL TO GIVE BOOKS TO BOYS IN SERVICE

By Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt

NEW YORK CITY, MONDAY—This is Jan. 4, the day on which the Victory Book Campaign for 1943 starts. There is one thing which every one of us can do, no matter how busy we are. We can go through our bookshelves and send to the headquarters in our particular locality the books which we feel will be enjoyed by the officers and men of the Army, Navy, Marines and Merchant Marine.

I found in Great Britain that the boys in the hospitals wanted every possible kind of book. Some of them were studying for special occupations, like radio and auto mechanics. Many of them wanted to know more about astronomy.

FANNIE HURST

Some of them even want to study geology. All of them need entertainment, and the detective or western story, full of thrill and excitement, will take them out of the happenings of the moment, which may be difficult today.

MANY OF THEM are trying to learn something about the countries in which they find themselves, and so biographies, books of travel, historical novels, all books that are up to date, will be interesting to the men in our armed forces.

If each one of us does our best, this campaign will be a success, but unless each one of us contributes, there will not be enough books. If you were far away from home, books would be the things that would mean the most to you in your leisure time. So, think of those who defend us in camps, on ships and on fighting fronts all over the world, and let's get busy today and provide the biggest collection of victory books we have ever had in this country.

I AM INTERESTED in the little Christmas books which are published every year. I was specially fortunate this year, because some friends in Texas sent me Hendrik Van Loon's "The Message of the Bells; or, What Happened to Us on Christmas Eve."

It is a simple, short narrative, with charming illustrations, and I am glad Dr. Van Loon heard his "own" bells, for it must have given him a bit of home-sickness for his Holland which he so dearly loves and has worked for during these years of her suffering.

FANNIE HURST sent me her little story of "White Christmas" in Washington. Into it she has woven the faith and hope of every American when a child is born.

Last, but not least, is Alexander W. Armour's "A Heart Warming Experience." I imagine the lesson he wants to convey is that nothing ever happens to any of us which we cannot bear if we approach it in the proper spirit. Many of us may need to remember that in the course of the next few years.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5—Eddie is a tough Irish buck sergeant who is now overseas with his outfit. His division was stationed in California some five months ago, and just before pulling out for an Eastern post his company tossed a farewell dance in Riverdale.

Guest of honor at the dance was Carol Bruce, and after the dance Eddie escorted her to her car, only to discover that one of her tires had gone flat. He changed it for her—with the aid of two privates who did all the work—and commented that the tire had worn pretty thin.

Well, Eddie didn't forget all the singing Carol did at that dance. When his outfit was put on an "alert" and told to ship all personal belongings home, Eddie scouted around among the car-owners in the company until he found one with an almost new tire that was going to be sold, anyway. Eddie bought the tire on his soldier's pay and shipped it to Carol before he sailed.

JERRY is a buck private at a Southern Army post who has dedicated the rest of his life to hating M. P.'s.

It seems that Jerry, who hails from Boston ,had been romancing two home town girls, via the mails. Recently, unable to wangle a furlough, he went over the hill, and while visiting Boston he proposed to both the damsels. Shortly thereafter he was picked up by the M. P.'s.

Somehow his two fiancees, Mabel and Eleanor, found out about each other; and both penned Jerry scathing notes demanding that he clarify the whole situation and let them know what the score was. Not in the least nonplussed, Jerry wrote each a very sweet letter in which he told each that the other girl meant nothing to him, promised Mabel that he would write Eleanor and tell her it was all off, and promise Eleanor vice versa.

The post prison censor passed both letters. But he put Eleanor's letter in Mabel's envelope, and Mabel's letter in Eleanor's envelope. Now Jerry has no fiancee to worry about.

BOSTON after DARK

By GEORGE HOLLAND

THE JOB CONGRESSMAN (Ex-) Joe Casey has been offered is Solicitor-General of the U. S., and that might move Biddle up to the post of Secretary of Labor . . . The Biddle family (of Philadelphia)—in all its resplendent history—has never had a member of cabinet rank . . . Congressman Casey, however, is not an impossible choice for the Labor job . . . He doesn't wear high collars, and his accent is not too broad-A and the dope is that he might get along better with labor bosses . . . The "liberals" are in somewhat of a stew . . . Biddle has been accepted by them, and Casey is one of their pets . . . And whatever happened to that job Joe Kennedy was scheduled to get? . . . (How the U. S. Reds hate Joe!) . . . Morton Downey is Joe's house-guest this week.

JIMMY CAGNEY'S RECOGNITION by the motion picture critics of New York as the actor who gave 1942's best performance in the George M. Cohan role in "Yankee Doodle Dandy" makes this column's rating as a movie critic higher . . . Generally this department finds little enough to rave about in motion pictures . . . It raved about Cagney . . . The Latin Quarter's new show features Gloria Gilbert, a Greater Boston girl, who is one of the phenomena of show-business . . . Gloria has been doing those spins, which whirl her about a given point with the velocity of a top, for years and years . . . Hers is one of the most sensational acts of the stage . . . The Quarter, like most of the local night-spots, is concerned about the public's lassitude in the matter of nightclubbing . . . Paint and plaster have been substituted for fabrics in the beautiful Winchester st. night club . . . And there are nine (9) exits, four of them in the main dining room . . . Yet Mr. and Mrs. John Q. Public has not yet resumed his and—or her habit of joining the rush for ringside seats . . . Good news from the battle-fronts may do it!

SHEILA BARRETT IS at the Copley Plaza . . . Sheila has been a critics' favorite since she burst on the New York horizon ten years ago in Eddie Dowling's "Thumbs Up" . . . Miss Barrett obeys that venerable and honored axiom of vaudeville: "Change Your Act," and each year her repertory seems to get more varied and interesting . . . Currently, she is grand . . . And the customers are paying her tribute . . . But—it being undoubtedly the Barrett name which is drawing the carriage trade to the Copley Plaza (and other trade as well)—why does Sheila have to "follow" a dance-team? . . . Ordinary gallantry on the part of the muscle-man now tossing a partner around the Plaza's traditional eves would dictate that Miss Barrett take the featured spot in the show . . . There is probably an explanation . . . These dancing Adonises seem to have been able to explain things satisfactorily to their draft boards . . . Or has one of them enlisted? . . . . Most of them are from central Europe, and perhaps there's an explanation in that for their lack of affinity for Garands and mortars . . . Of course, we are not referring specifically to the gentleman who is so, so graceful all this week and last at the Plaza . . . He was just a reminder.

ONCE AGAIN THE SLOWNESS in production of musical comedies has redounded to dismay a talented youngster who, in the lush years of the last boom, would certainly be playing a soubrette role in something by Ziegfeld, Hammerstein, Aarons and Freedley, Schwab and Mandel or Dillingham . . . She is cute little Sandra Blake, now singing with Bob Hardy's orchestra at the

VIOLET AND DAISY HILTON

Husbands of "Siamese Twins" Are in the Army

Lenox V-room . . . The child is a Boston girl, and has a bell-like voice . . . But friends say she dances even better than she sings . . . It was the combination of dancing and singing which always drew the fattest pay-checks in musical comedy . . . Consider the recent "Something for the Boys" . . . There wasn't so much as one girl in the cast who did both . . . Although Merman never needed to dance, and Betty Bruce, whose underpinnings are almost as beautiful as Barbara Newberry's used to be, is the best dancer of her kind in the business.

THE "SIAMESE TWINS" (as the public knows them) are at the Old Howard . . . They are Violet and Daisy Hilton, and the girls will be 35 on Feb. 5 . . . As almost everyone inquiring about the Hiltons ask about their husbands, here's the dope on them: One is in the infantry . . . The other is in the Army Air Corps . . . Both are commissioned officers.

LUISE RAINER RETURNING TO STAR IN 'HOSTAGES' FILM

By Louella O. Parsons

Copyright, 1943, by International News Service

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 5—Wistful-eyed Luise Rainer, who was much in evidence in New York when I was there, and always in the company of a good looking escort, is at long last returning to Hollywood. She tests for the delectable and sought-after lead in "Hostages" and I know how happy that must make her. Luise, you see, was in the curious position of having won the Academy Award twice and then not being able to get a movie job. If she had been temperamental or difficult, it would have been understandable but she wasn't. Her only fault was her accent and since an accent is needed in "Hostages" she is right for the role.

LUISE RAINER

Since Zorina is staying on in New York, preferring the stage, there is a definite place for Luise. She will not only be starred in "Hostages" but will make additional films for Buddy De Sylva, who will sign her for Paramount.

THE TRUE STORY of Kilsoo Haan, the Korean patriot who tipped off our government that the Japs were planning a surprise attack on Pearl Harbor, is so fascinating it should be written into a story. Ray Goetz and Anita Loos took me to Olvera st. some months ago and I met Haan's associate, a talented artist. These Koreans are great patriots and Haan has written the story of Philip Ahn, Sr., father of the young man of the same name now playing with Loretta Young in Paramount's "China."

The elder Ahn was a Korean patriot who died in prison because he refused to accept a bribe to cease his propaganda against the Japs. Philip is also a fine example of his race. He was once engaged to Anna May Wong. Naturally he would like to portray his father on the screen.

NEVER WAS A SHORT SUBJECT made with such secrecy as "You, John Jones," starring Jimmy Cagney, Ann Sothern and little Margaret O'Brien. It was filmed on the M-G-M lot for the U. S. government and will be launched officially "United Nations Week."

Now that the movie about Cagney, who plays an aircraft worker and a warden married to Annie Sothern, is completed the hush-hush restrictions have been removed by Uncle Sam, which is certainly a boon to the poor Metro press agents.

HURRAH! STEPIN FETCHIT is coming back! Remember Stepin who used to fall asleep on the set and disappear for days at a time and drive around town with a huge town car and chauffeur?

Stepin was one of my favorites and in the old days used to tell me his troubles. Well, I hear he is a rejuvenated man. He has paid all his bills while working in New York and Connecticut and has become a very good boy. Joe Glaser is bringing Stepin to Hollywood to see if there isn't a place for him in the movies. I'll bet there is!

KATE PRICE, beloved comedienne of the silent days, passed away today at the Motion Picture Country House. Kate had been to mass Sunday and had had a talk with her friend, Rev. Thomas J. English of Our Lady of the Valley Church at Canoga Park, and she was very happy. It is nice to know her last days were free from worry, made possible by the motion picture folk. When I went to the Motion Picture Country House she showed me a lily pond which she called her "Lakes of Killarney." When we think what this comfortable home means it is wonderful that each person in the picture business can do his small part to help.

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD COLLECTED AT RANDOM: Hold everything! Venita Oakie was out stepping with Alan Curtis! Gloria Jean is proud as punch over the St. Christopher bracelet Charles Boyer gave her for a New Year's present; Andy McLaglen, 6 feet 7, was turned down by the Army as being too tall—and he's very sad; Peggy Moran's first movie since she became Mrs. Henry Koster is at Republic in a Roy Rogers' Western; Tim Holt is actually Bonita Granville's big moment since she and Jackie Cooper split; Roz Russell has been ordered by her doctor to take things easy until after the birth of her baby. The desert Christmas party for the boys was too much for her; Veloz and Yolanda open their new show, "Dansations" in New York Jan. 19; the Don Barrys, whose married life has been a series of separations and reconciliations, are back together again. That's all today.

PATRICIA COLLINS of Milton is another bride who has had to bow to Uncle Sam's orders. Abrupt cancellation of her fiance's leave interrupted her plans for an elaborate wedding in Milton and now the scene of the ceremony has been shifted to Albany, Georgia.

Pat is the daughter of Lieut. R. Perry Collins, U. S. N. R., and Mrs. Collins of Milton, and fiance of Lieut. Cordis M. Sargent of Lexington. Bag and baggage she leaves Boston today and will be married to her lieutenant Saturday afternoon at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Albany, in the presence of her parents and the bridgeroom's mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Sargent of Lexington.

In place of the five bridesmaids Pat was to have had at the wedding in Milton, there will be just one attendant, Mrs. Wayne Matson, wife of one of the officers stationed in Georgia with Lieut. Sargent.

"I'm taking my wedding dress anyway," the bride-to-be told us yesterday, "and even though we will not have time for a honeymoon I am saving my red wool going away suit for some special occasion after I arrive in Georgia." Her wedding gown is of heavy white brocade with a short veil attached to a cap of braided tulle and brocade and undoubtedly she'll have orange blossoms fresh from Florida.

The bridegroom has written that he has taken a furnished cottage not far from his base. He has also attended to all the wedding' niceties such as arranging for a bridal dinner after the ceremony, decorations at the church and a wedding cake so Pat will not miss all the traditional wedding frills despite being married away from home and her many friends

A NOVEL STUNT added zest and an element of suspense to today's merry coming-out party at which debutantes Ann Rice, Janet Ross and Peggy Blackmur made their formal bows to Beantown society. A huge basket containing all brands of cigarettes was passed and each guest advised to remember the number on the package she picked. At the close of the party "lucky numbers" were read off by the three deb hostesses and the girls whose numbers corresponded won nifty prizes.

The party was a buffet luncheon at the Hotel Puritan, patterned after the merry pre-war football luncheons the girls' parents used to enjoy so much before going on to the Stadium on game Saturdays. The chef in his spic and span white regalia stood behind the buffet serving a delicious repast which conformed with O. P. A. restrictions, and the table was simply decorated with accacia, snapdragon and tulips in pastel colors.

Birthday Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE
Tuesday, Jan. 5, 1943

IF TODAY'S YOUR BIRTHDAY—You will be a comfort and joy to parents, a most useful citizen to state and country if you develop rightly and live true to your inherent good qualities. You are steady, industrious, persevering and determined. There is a tendency in your sector to be very exacting—gloomy at times, these should be corrected early in life. You can succeed especially in industrial lines, mining, naval, military careers, the medical professions. Birthdate of Stephen Decatur, naval commander; Cora Witherspoon, William Wright, motion picture actors.

'ONE OF OUR AIRCRAFT IS MISSING' OPENS ON THURSDAY AT PARA-FENWAY

Film Portrays Fliers' Escape

Self-styled aviation experts will probably have a field day and arguments will fly thick and fast when the new United Artists release, "One of Our Aircraft Is Missing," has its local premiere on Thursday on the Paramount and Fenway screens.

Mary Beth Hughes

This film tells the story of a six-man crew on a British Wellington bomber who are forced to bail out over Holland and their adventurous journey through Holland to the seacoast and safety.

But before their story begins to unwind on the screen, the bomber, marked "B for Bertie," is shown flying home across the North Sea with not one of the crew on board. It finally crashes into a great steel tower and causes a deafening explosion . . but it does get home.

The rest is up to the self-styled experts. Will they question the story of "B for Bertie" or will they argue that it can't be done, because there ain't no such animal? These critics, however, will have to be technical experts, and chances are good that they will be too busy at present to argue a water-tight case.

"One of Our Aircraft Is Missing" was written, produced and directed by Michael Powell and Emeric Pressburger, and the stellar cast boasts Eric Portman, Hugh Williams and Googie Withers. The picture was photographed with the full co-operation of the Royal Air Force and the Air Ministry, and, above all, of the Royal Netherlands Government in London.

The companion film, "Over My Dead Body," presents Milton Berle as a writer of detective fiction whose own crazy ideas involve him in an actual murder. Mary Beth Hughes is his co-star.

Dead End Kids' Latest Film At Trans-Lux Tomorrow

The intrepid Dead End Kids, whose recklessness is only approached by Hollywood's Little Tough Guys, are teamed up with the latter film juveniles in "Mug Town," which is to be seen on the Trans-Lux screen starting tomorrow.

GRACE McDONALD
"Mug Town"

Outstanding screen personalities who have supporting roles are Grace McDonald, Tommy Kelly, Jed Prouty and Edward Norris.

Billy Halop, Huntz Hall, Bernard Punsly and Gabriel Dell top the featured players' list. They appear as youthful renegades who become involved in a hijacking project which takes them through a series of exciting adventures before their ultimate redemption.

Opening sequences show the lads in a battle with railway detectives. In the climax, they are fighting the most ruthless criminal ever encountered in their movie careers. Meanwhile, according to the press release, there is a hectic romantic interlude in which Halop and Miss McDonald are the principals.

Writers who co-authored the screen play are Brenda Weisberg, Lewis Amster, Harold Tarshis and Henry Sucher. Charles Grayson wrote the original story. It is a Universal release.

On the same bill will be "A Man's World," starring William Wright, Marguerite Chapman and Larry Parks in an inside story of life in one of America's modern frontier towns.

At Regular Prices

"Yankee Doodle Dandy," the James Cagney-starring film version of the late George M. Cohan's vivid stage career, is now started on its first engagement at regular prices at New York's Strand Theater.

"TOBACCO ROAD," in which Gladys Leslie plays the role of Pearl, is remaining an additional week at the Colonial Theater, where it will continue through Jan. 16.

Horton Stage Hit Due at Colonial

"Springtime for Henry," starring Edward Everett Horton, is due at the Colonial Theater on Jan. 25. The stage and screen star has enjoyed enormous success in this amusing farce in the summer theaters and also during a run at the Wilbur in June, 1940.

Lou Smith Talks on Racing

LOU SMITH IS back in town following a trip to Florida. The boss of Rockingham Park stopped over in New York for the New Year's celebration, and then came to Boston to plan his 1943 racing program.

LOU SMITH

"Transportation is still the key to the future of racing," said Smith. "By the time the New England racing season opens, there may be an improvement in the matter of transportation. We shall have our war machine going at such high speed by that time and the war effort so well organized that it may be possible to lift some of the restrictions on gas and train service.

"In Florida, racing conditions are not very bright. Tropical Park requires a handle of $210,000 a day to break even. The daily average has been much below that sum. One has to have an auto to get to Tropical Park. Few persons have the necessary tires and gas for their autos.

"President Clark of Hialeah Park told me his track hoped to get a special train. This would assure Hialeah Park of a successful meeting.

"Hialeah Park is owned by a group of wealthy men who would be able to take a financial loss if it were necessary. I feel confident they will carry through their meeting.

"Miami is a military camp, and there are not many tourists there. Many people who went to Miami intending to remain there for one or two weeks have checked out in a day or two. This has taken away from possible race track patronage.

"I am going ahead with plans for Rockingham Park as usual with the hope that things will be much better by the time we open our summer meeting."

Suffolk Downs and Narragansett Park are also planning their 1943 racing programs. There will probably be a drop in attendance and in mutuel figures, but the tracks will be able to break even if they reduce their operating overhead.

The states of Massachusetts, Rhode Island and New Hampshire are anxious to keep racing going on account of the large revenue they receive from the sport. With shrinking revenue from the gas tax and other sources, the state authorities would not like to see racing close down.

Herman Conkling Ill With Pneumonia

SMITH TOLD me that Herman Conkling, racing steward at Rockingham Park and Suffolk Downs, is ill with pneumonia in a Baltimore hospital. Conkling is one of the leading racing officials in the country, and is known for his fearlessness as well as for his fairness.

Conkling was taken ill last week. He is being cared for by some of the leading doctors in the East, and his many friends are confident he will make a complete recovery.

Random Shots at Target

FRANK LEAHY will remain in Florida for the winter instead of going to Arizona, according to Col. Dave Egan . . . The Florida sun should do much to bake the arthritis condition out of the upper part of Leahy's spine . . . Leahy is looking ahead to football in 1943 . . . College teams will play nearer home, and in some cases they may clash with the same club twice during a season.

All college sports next fall will have close tie-ins with the Army and Navy as by that time most of the available material will be in one of the services.

Ed McKeever told me when I was at Notre Dame last month that he had not received an offer to coach Northwestern . . . It is well known though, that McKeever has received flattering football offers from several colleges . . . Leahy would not stand in McKeever's path if he wished to go to another college, but he feels that where Ed is paid more money than any other assistant coach and is very happy with his berth at Notre Dame that he will be reluctant to make a change.

Shot at Casey's Title Goal of Danno, Westy

Marvin Westenberg, former heavyweight champion, will try to discourage Danno O'Mahony's attempt to gain another crack at the title held by Steve Casey tomorrow night when the pair tangle in the main bout of Promoter Paul Bowser's weekly wrestling show at the Arena.

In a special bout, Manuel Cortez will try to take a fall out of Dr. John "Drop-Kick" Murphy. Other pairings on the supporting card will pit Jack Cistoldi vs. Tiger Tasker; Leo Ryan vs. Slidin' Bill Hansen and Walter Lipson vs. Walter Thibodeau.

NEW ORLEANS, La.—Willie Pep, 129½, Hartford, Ct., NBA world featherweight champion, won a clean-cut decision over Vince Dell 'Orto, 133¾, New York, 10.

JOE DIMAGGIO, IN RENO, HINTS HE'LL QUIT YANKS

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 5 (AP)—Joe DiMaggio, hard-hitting New York Yankee centerfielder, told the Examiner, "spring training won't concern me this year," and then in reply to a question as to wether he was quitting baseball added, "I'm not saying; you can draw your own conclusions."

The newspaper said today the statements were made in an interview by long distance telephone from Reno, Nev., where DiMaggio presumably was visiting his estranged wife.

His comment on spring training came after he was asked if he thought the Yankees' abandonment of a Florida training site would affect his playing next year.

"I'll be back in town in a couple of days; then I'll tell you what I'm going to do," he said in response to further questions.

"You mean you're going to announce your retirement," the ballplayer was asked.

"Maybe; I'll see you later," he parried.

Navy Commissions Swede Anderson

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Jan. 5 (INS)—Commissioned a lieutenant, senior grade, in the U. S. Navy, Carl "Swede" Anderson, backfield coach of Indiana University, was ready today to report for active duty at the Navy's Pre-flight School in Chapel Hill, N. C.

Anderson, former football coach and athletic director at Western State Teachers College,, Ky., was called to Indiana in 1938 by his former mentor, Coach Bo McMillin. Anderson is the third assistant McMillan has lost since last spring.

Landis Edict Waited

CHICAGO, Jan. 5 (INS)—High-ranking representatives of baseball's 16 major league clubs assembled in Chicago today for a special meeting on how to fit spring training and season schedules into the wartime emergency travel pattern.

Called by Commissioner K. M. Landis, the session will have before it proposals to trim this year's playing season by two weeks, to reduce traveling squads from 25 to 20 players and to confine spring training to sites near home.

"The meeting definitely will straighten out the 1943 season," predicted Will Harridge, president of the American League. "We'll know the where and when of spring training and after that we can map a definite schedule."

The proposed shortening of the 1943 season would involve moving the scheduled April 13 opening back to April 27 and would result, in the opinion of some baseball followers, in the scheduling of more doubleheaders to make up games lost.

Chicago White Sox and Cubs officials postponed a scheduled trip to French Lick Springs, Ind., to inspect possible training quarters because of today's meeting.

COWLEY 4TH IN SCORING

MONTREAL, Jan. 5 (AP)—It's still one-two-three for the Toronto Maple Leafs atop the National Hockey League scoring race, official figures showed today.

Lorne Carr leads the parade with 36 points on 18 goals and as many assists. Right behind him are Syl Apps and Billy Taylor with 35 points each. And to complete the Toronto domination, App's 19 goals give him first place in that division while Taylor's 24 assists make him second to Boston's Bill Cowley. Cowley has 25.

In the over-all scoring, the Bruin play-maker is fourth with 34 points, four more than Max Bentley of the Chicago Hawks and Lynn Patrick of New York.

Detroit's Jim Orlando and Reg Hamilton of Toronto, are tied for the bad man honors as far as ordinary penalties are concerned. Each has spent 35 minutes in the cell but Orlando also has two 10-minute misconducts and a match penalty on his record.

The 10 leading scorers:

Player, Club	G.	A.	Pts
Carr, Toronto	18	18	36
Apps, Toronto	19	16	35
Taylor, Toronto	11	24	35
Cowley, Boston	9	25	34

INFANTILE PARALYSIS BATTLED BY SPORTS

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK, Jan. 5 (INS)—The elasticity of the sports word in the matter of providing funds for charity has never been more evident. During this month it will shoulder the job of raising dough for the annual fight against infantile paralysis, in addition to all the other tasks which it has willingly shouldered.

It pitched into the job of raising money for the Navy Relief Society, Army Emergency Relief Fund, Red Cross, USO, United Seamen's Service Fund and other war chests with vigor and generosity, but it isn't forgetting its contributions to a battle that has been going on night and day for years. The nation-wide committee of sportswriters and sportscasters who work annually for this fund have rounded up a host of sports events in every conceivable realm athletics—even rassling.

POIGNANT CONNECTION

The connection between athletics and infantile paralysis work is a poignant one. The examples of persons whose lives have been saved by proper treatment for the disease are graphic. Many headliners in nearly every sport owe their lives and their health to the kind of treatment which the National Infantile Paralysis Foundation wants to bring to less fortunate children and adults. "Let's play, so others can walk," is the slogan which thousands of athletes, pro, semi-pro and amateur, can carry into events with them this month.

Mike Jacobs, who put the sports world solidly in charitable work for the duration when he promoted Joe Louis' fights against Buddy Baer and Abe Simon last year, will stage a big one at Madison Square Garden Jan. 29 to raise funds for a battle which never knows an armistice or a furlough. Three other New York promoters, Bill Johnston, Marty Cohen and Mike Genovese, will stage shows during the same week.

BASKETBALL BENEFIT

Fordham plays Columbia in basketball Saturday for the benefit of the fund—one of hundreds of such games by collegians and high school players to be played throughout the country. The famed ice follies will be presented in Buffalo on Jan. 30, the night of the President's birthday, for the benefit of the fund. The show's delightful comedian, Heinie Brock, who recovered from the crippling effect of infantile, will give a special performance that night.

Every other sport will chip in, thanks to appeals from sportswriters and sportcasters to their local promoters. Before the campaign is over, the sports world can well afford to take another deep bow. It will have one coming to it.

Mrs. Adams' Horse Wins

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 5 (AP)—It looked more and more as though Mrs. W. W. Adams got a real bargain when she claimed the black gelding Arthur Murray for $2000 at Narragansett last August.

The horse, now a four-year-old, won his fourth straight race—the featured mile and one-sixteenth sixth at Tropical Park. It was three in a row for Arthur Murray at Tropical to add to a victory in his last outing at Rockingham.

Carrying 108 pounds, Arthur Murray whirled around the track in one minute 44 2-5 seconds, to win by four lengths over Challomine and by six over Happy Family.

Johnny Adams, the 1942 jockey champion, rode a double. He scored with Her Guardian in the fourth, and with Ask Aunt Ada in the fifth.

The Monday crowd of 3051 bet $187,441.

Fishermen Favor Herring Pond Bill

Fishermen and motorists are interested in a bill filed today with the clerk of the House of Representatives for the establishment of a right of way to Little Herring Pond, Plymouth, which was recommended to the legislature in a special report by the State Department of Public Works and the attorney-general.

Under terms of the bill, the proposed right of way shall be a roadway 40 feet wide along the westerly side of the pond to the shore in the vicinity of Duck Cove, with a suitable recreation area on the shore of the pond as a public landing.

TOP IMPOST—The great wonder horse of the turf, Whirlaway must carry the top weight of 132 in the Widener Stake at Hialeah on March 6. Only two other horses have been given greater imposts and neither ran. In 1936, Cavalcade received 136 pounds and in 1941 Challedon was assigned 133.

Whirlaway to Tote 132 In Hialeah's Widener

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 5 (AP)—Paying for his great record, the racing champion Whirlaway must carry top weight of 132 pounds when he goes after the winter's biggest purse in the Widener Stake at Hialeah Park March 6.

Racing Secretary Charles J. McLennan assigned the flowing-tailed Warren Wright horse—leading money winner in turf history with earnings of $560,911—an impost exceeded only twice in the eight-year history of the mile and one-quarter handicap.

Cavalcade was laden with 136 pounds in 1936 and Challedon with 133 in 1941—but neither started.

Last year's surprise winner, Greentree Stable's The Rhymer, carried 111 pounds, and was given the same weight again.

Rated next to Whirlaway for the $25,000 added stake, which became the big horse race of the winter when the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap was cancelled last year, is Charles S. Howard's Mioland, in at 126 pounds.

Ben F. Whitaker's Requested, winner last year of the Flamingo Stake as a three-year-old, drew 124 pounds, while fourth honor position went to Howard's Kayak II, victor in the 1939 Santa Anita Handicap, at 121.

The two horses in the field of 49 nominees which have defeated Whirlaway in previous tests will have considerable weight advantages over the Calumet Comet.

The impost lists:

At 124 pounds, Whirlaway; 126, Mioland; 124, Requested; 121, Kayak II; 120, Riverland; 118, Contradiction and Elkridge; 116, Bolingbroke; 115, Boyay and Corydon.

At 114, Firebroom; 113, Bright Gallant; 112, Best Seller; 111, The Rhymer; 110, Eire and Tola Rose; 109, Flaught, Porter's Cap and Sir Marlboro; 108, Hyacinthus, Incoming, Redthorn and Sir Alfred.

At 106, Blue Pair, Battle Colors, Paper Boy and Yankee Dandy; 105, Bolus, Georgia Star, Jamerica and Nipsickle; 104, Belle D'Amour, Call of Duty, Gold Teddy, Mikern Ocean Wave, Ship Biscuit and Third Covey.

At 103, Lianero, No Wrinkles and Through Bound; 102, Air Current and Ponty; 101, Beau of Adine and Panbroom; 100, Pharabiaze, Sky Bound, Uncle Billies and Double S.

WAR OPENS BARRIERS FOR KIDS IN HOCKEY

By BILL GRIMES

Judging from the large number of youngsters who are making good in major ice league competition this season, World War No. 2 broke up a closed corporation.

It couldn't be that suddenly out of nowhere came such a promising bunch of kids as are now playing their freshmen year in the N. H. L.

And bear in mind that in the armed forces and munition plants of our good neighbors to the north there are a- many, if not more, teen-aged boys who have matched their hockey ability with the current crop of N. H. L. freshmen.

Until the war forced their hands, the N. H. L. managers and owners refused to replace veterans with inexperienced youngsters. They knew that their old hirelings were buckling at the knees, slowing up and gasping for breath after a few rushes. But they told the hockey public that they were confident that the old boys could and would get by on their brains.

But, to appease the cash customers, they would, from time to time, bring up some kid, toss him in when the going was really tough, yank him off and confess that they were wrong, "The kid isn't ready yet."

FORCED TO GET KIDS

Such was the line of bunk that has been handed out for years.

Suddenly the armed forces of this country and Canada began to crack down and the rosters of N. H. L. clubs were depleted. With tickets ranging in prices from 50 cents to $2.50, the promoters couldn't bring back any Nels Stewarts, Bill Cooks, Frankie Bouchers, Eddie Shores, Lionel Hitchmans, Sprague Cleghorns, Tiny Thompsons, "King" Clancys, Aurel Joliats, Red Horners, Cooney Weilands or Dutch Gainors. So they were obliged to bow to the youth movement.

Believe it or not, the kids are responsible for the financial successes the N. H. L. clubs are enjoying this season. They brought new faces, speed and hustle into the league. They have stepped up the tempo of major league hockey. True, they make mistakes but there aren't any fans taking any catnaps while they are on the ice.

What would the Bruins have to offer with any box office appeal if they didn't have the Sprouts? Frankie Brimsek, Dit Clapper and Bill Cowley couldn't carry the load. None of the rest have the public appeal of the Sprouts.

Do you believe that Les Canadiens, with six wins in 24 starts, are in the "black" because the fans have turned out to see Charlie Sands, Ray Getliffe, Toe Blake, Jack Portland, Dutch Hiller and Gordie Drillon? Not by a long shot. It has been Maurice Richard, Leo Lamoureaux, Charlie Phillips, Bobby Lee, Johnny Mahaffy and now Irving McGibbon, Clen Harmon and Floyd Curry who have enticed the customers to the Montreal Forum.

PILOTS WILL TAKE BOWS

The Toronto fans still figure that Syl Apps, "Turk" Broda, Reg Hamilton and Dave Schriner are "tops" but such kids as Gaye Stewart, Norb Poile, Bob Copp, Jack McLean, Jack Forsey and George Boothman are mainly responsible for making the attendance at the Maple Leaf Gardens break all previous records.

Bob Kirkpatrick, Dud "Red" Garrett and Scotty Cameron are grabbing their share of the spotlight in New York; Harry Watson and Cully Simon are highly esteemed by Detroit fans and Aud Tuten, "Red" Mitchell and even Reg Bentley, the oldest of the three brothers, haven't caused the Chicago fans to give a cold shoulder to the Blackhawks.

At the end of the season, the N. H. L. managers, whose "kids" have come through with flying colors, will be taking bows as master craftsmen of their trade. But, if they are master craftsmen, it was World War No. 2 that brought the "kids" to the notice of the hockey public.

Bruins Set Games Ahead

Beginning with the Chicago Blackhawks' tilt which will be played for the American Red Cross, the Bruins games will start at 8:15 for the duration. The game time poll taken last week was practically a stand-off so Manager Art Ross selected 8:15 . . . The Rossmen arrived home yesterday from Detroit where they beat the Wings for their first triumph in eight starts . . . They work out today at the Arena, where they will also hold practice sessions tomorrow and Thursday . . . Capt. "Dit" Clapper, who acted as player-manager in the Motor City, reported that his charges had come through a tough game without a serious injury!

"Fishy" Dumon is home on a short furlough and will play with the Olympics Friday and Saturday against the Philadelphia Falcons . . . If Tom Kanaly can get plane reservations from New York to Ft. Wayne, Ind., where the former Boston College star is stationed, "Fishy" will be in the "Pics" lineup Sunday in Madison Sq. Garden where Coach Hago Harrington's boys will meet the Rovers . . . Bob Priestly, former Melrose High and Brown hockey and football star, is trying out for the Olympics. He played pro football with the Philadelphia Eagles last fall.

There'll be two more newcomers with the Pics for the series with the Falcons, Roger Bedard, former Mt. St. Charles star, who was with Sherbrooke, Que., last year, and Bill Melache, who played with Verdun in the Q. S. H. L. Bedard is on loan from the Rhode Island Reds . . . There's also a possibility that Gerry Desrocher, who has been out with a broken ankle, will return this week-end.

Prior to Nov. 20, when the N. H. L. clamped down on overtime games, there had been only one tie. Since then, there have been 14. That's a bad ratio, one in 21, but 14 in 51 . . . The Ice Follies of 1943 will open a two weeks' engagement at the Boston Garden on February 10. The only break in the run will be for the annual B. A. A. meet, Feb. 13th.

ONLY TEN DAYS LEFT TO SIGN FOR DERBY

From early entry blanks, it appears that the juveniles, intermediates and juniors will draw the largest fields in the eighth annual Silver Skates Derby which will be held at the Boston Garden on Jan. 24.

The men's senior championships, which always drew large fields, is far below last year. It was expected for this class is restricted to those 19 years and over—most of the boys who have taken part in this event during the past few years are now in the armed forces.

Yet, there is a possibility that this senior group will again be loaded with a last minute rush of service men.

10 DAYS LEFT

Soldiers and sailors stationed around here are all eligible and many of the boys in blue and in khaki, are expected to join the fun.

There are only 10 days left to enter.

All entries will close January 14—any letter postmarked on that date will be accepted. Don't wait until the last day.

Remember, the Derby is open to every amateur in New England. There is no entry fee.

ENTRIES STILL COMING

Win or lose, it's a lot of fun. Then, too, there will be a great time for all. Great stars will appear to make it a well rounded ice show and Karl Rhode, who has furnished the music for the past Derbies, will again be on hand.

Late entries were received this morning from:

Donald Lindquist, Winthrop; Eark Leppo, Newton; Kenneth Hanson, Roxbury; Robert Flynn, Arlington; Robert Tolts, Chelsea; William F. Donovan, Roslindale; Charles A. Wickens, Medford; Thomas Walsh, Allston; James Gunning, Allston; Sumner Lavine, Brighton; J. Harvey Curbo, Roslindale and Raymond Jodoin, Salem.

Florida Dog Tracks Beat Dimout Problem

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Jan. 5 (AP)—The toughest dimout problem in Florida has been licked and dog race fans now watch greyhounds run around an oval only a stone's throw from the surf here.

Military security officers are satisfied with the dimout provisions effected by the Miami Beach Kennel Club despite its closeness to waters where enemy submarines were known to have been operating less than a year ago.

94 PER CENT REDUCTION

Track officials would have sold their chances for racing this season for a cake of flea soap, with no takers. The public was certain the course would become a war casualty. There was serious consideration of hiding the entire track under a circus big top so the season could go on, but this plan fell through.

It was found that a 94 per cent reduction in general lighting and use of a newly-invented system of infra-red speed photography—plus a sympathetic public—would solve the problem.

Formerly, the track's back stretch was illuminated by a couple of dozen 1000-watt electric lights. The front stretch had as many 750-watters. The grandstand was flooded with light from 150-watt bulbs.

FLUORESCENT PAINT

Today the track is illuminated with 40-watt lights, and the grandstand has just seven 25-watters drawn well up among the rafters. All the permanent lettering on the results board is in fluorescent paint, with weak lights giving details. A shield hides the board from the sea.

The photo finish lights, formerly 800 foot-candle power per square foot, now is a dull red glow from the infra-red bulbs, testing only 7½ foot candlepower per square foot.

PATTY BERG
Plans Nationwide Tour

PATTY TRAINS FOR COMEBACK

MOBILE, Ala., Jan. 5 (AP)—Patty Berg, the Minneapolis redhead who won practically every major women's amateur golf title before turning pro several years ago, is working daily to bring her game back to championship edge.

Patty plans a nationwide tour playing exhibition matches for the Army and Navy Relief Funds, the Red Cross and other war relief programs after regaining top playing form.

Patty was seriously injured in an automobile accident several months ago, a broken leg and other injuries forcing her off the golf fairways. Miss Berg came to Mobile where her friend and trainer, Andy Mortimer, is manager of the Mobile Country Club.

She's rapidly regaining her health and, likewise, the smooth game that carried her to the Women's Amateur National Championship.

EDWARDS HELD HERO MEDAL

NEW YORK, Jan. 5 (AP)—William H. "Big Bill" Edwards, 66, one-time Princeton football star and an early advocate of professional football, died here yesterday after an operation.

Only two weeks ago he was re-elected president of the Touchdown Club, an organization of football officials and writers.

A former street cleaning commissioner of this city, Edwards was awarded a Carnegie Hero Medal for saving the life of the late Mayor William J. Gaynor in 1910, when a disgruntled dock department watchmen attempted to assassinate the mayor on board the German liner, Kaiser Wilhelm Der Grosse. Edwards leaped upon the assailant after a shot the watchman fired had slightly wounded the mayor. The former football star overpowered and disarmed the man.

Edwards was captain of the Princeton 1899 football team, which won the Ivy League championship, and was considered by many one of the greatest guards in Princeton's history.

Upon his graduation from Princeton, he went to the United States Naval Academy as a football coach.

White Wins Maryland Title

BALTIMORE, Jan. 5 (AP) — Staging the greatest battle of his career, Luther "Slugger" White, of Baltimore, won the Maryland version of the world lightweight boxing championship, defeating Willie Joyce, of Gary, Ind., by a unanimous decision after 15 rounds of fast, sharp fighting.

A crowd of more than 5000 yelled themselves hoarse as the Baltimore Negro evened up a former defeat the Indiana lightweight had scored over him in New Orleans.

The slugger, setting a torrid pace throughout the 15 rounds of milling, refused to coast in the final stanza, although he was well ahead on points.

Joyce tried desperately for a knockout in the 15th round, throwing caution to the winds and punching with both hands, but his furious attack failed to slow up White.

White weighed 134¾ and Joyce 133¾.

Fitchburg Coaches Headed for Service

FITCHBURG, Jan. 5 — Fitchburg High's athletic setup faces two changes soon with the announcement that John D. Oliva, basketball coach and physical education instructor, will report Thursday as a naval lieutenant and that Walter J. Dubzinski of Gardner, duration head football coach and former center at Boston College, will report for induction into the Army at Ft. Devens on Jan. 13.

Marty McDonough, regular head coach, has been in the Navy nearly a year.

Now's the Time to Plan For Post-War Sports

NEW YORK, Jan. 5 (AP)—There's been a lot of talk about post-war planning lately, so why not do a little of it in the sports field, too? . . . Nobody ever has proved that international sports lead to friendship, least of all the guys who had to settle some of the more famous disputes raised in the Olympic games, but we still believe that it's easier for people to understand one another when they play the same games than when they remain total strangers . . . and the best games we can think of for international competition are soccer football and basketball . . . soccer is known as the game that is played in every country and only the U. S. apparently doesn't give it the attention it deserves . . . basketball is a local product, but maybe our Soldiers and Sailors will give it a good start in other countries.

An example of how that can be done is furnished by Lieut. Everett Morris of the Navy, who is trying to teach the game to university students in Wales . . . Lieut. Morris, who reported basketball for the New York Herald Tribune before he helped put the Navy Pre-Flight program on the map, recently sent word back to some press-table pals: "It's pretty rocky going because they haven't seen the game played even amateurishly well, but they are eager to learn and some of them are quite adaptable." . . . Apparently the game has its attractions.

Walt Hanson of Long Branch (N. J.) recalls a conversation with Jack Doyle, old-time Tiger scout, that is worth the attention of big-league ball clubs in these days of training near home . . . Doyle's idea was that the teams should play exhibitions whenever possible in the smaller cities near their home towns . . . In that way they would build up friendship and interest new fans right in their home territory.

All eight of the Marine Corps' boxers who won division championships and N. B. A. belts at New River, N. C., a year ago and followed that 17-day tournament by sweeping the Carolinas' Golden Gloves at Charlotte, B. C., later served on Tulagi and Guadalcanal . . . Chief Warrant Officer John Fisher, who recently was ordered from Ft. Monroe, Va., to Ft. Des Moines, Ia., to assume leadership of the WAAC band, is a former Army and Navy bantamweight boxing champion and a good enough ball player that the Red Sox bought him out of the Army in 1910 . . . Eulace Peacock, former Olympic sprinter, plans to do some running this winter for the Manhattan Beach Coast Guard outfit . . . Lieut. Hartley D. Price, gymnastics coach at the Iowa Navy Pre-Flight School, says his program "teaches cadets how to fall properly under any circumstances."

Schools to Discuss Sunday Football

On Thursday, the Massachusetts High School Faculty Managers' Ass'n will hold a meeting at the Hotel Lenox followed by a dinner at 6:45 o'clock.

One of the topics to be discussed will be the Sunday football angle and a formal vote may be taken to be presented to the Headmasters' Ass'n at its annual session Saturday.

All members of the Managers' Ass'n have been urged to be in attendance as there are many new problems brought on by the war to be discussed.

LOUIS VISITS ILL MOTHER

DETROIT, Jan. 5 (AP)—Sergt. Joe Louis, home to visit his mother, ill with pneumonia in Woman's Hospital, said here that Army life was keeping him in the pink and that he could enter training for defense of his heavyweight championship tomorrow should the war end.

"I weigh 215 pounds now," the laconic champ observed in an interview, "and I think that leaves me with just the right amount of weight to work off to get into fighting shape. I feel fine, too, and I'm working with boxers every day."

'Cats Next For Huskies

Northeastern basketball Huskies travel to Durham, tomorrow, to battle the University of New Hampshire.

Coach Foxy Flumere states that the second half of the schedule will be tough, but he is sure that his team will give a good account of itself.

The Huskies face the three best quintets in New England this month: Rhode Island State, Connecticut, and Springfield.

Last Monday, the Huskies came up with their second win in five starts when they downed the Harvard Naval Training team. The game showed that Flumere's boys were beginning to hit their stride.

The playing of freshmen Russ Washburn and Cookie Gwazdosky, both of whom won varsity football letters this past season, was especially pleasing. Washburn came up with 18 points to be high scorer while Cookie sunk the ball for a total of ten.

STEWART BUSY MAN

DALLAS, Jan. 5 (AP)—Jimmie Stewart, as busy as an ice cream salesman in Libya, took Sunday off to celebrate the start of his "vacation."

Jimmie only has three jobs now—director of athletics, business manager of athletics and head basketball coach at Southern Methodist University.

He wound up his duties as director-general of the Cotton Bowl Athletic Ass'n Monday. He finished his work as head football coach several weeks ago. That helped because for a time he was coaching the gridders in the afternoon and the basketball boys at night, meanwhile doing full duty down at the Cotton Bowl office.

BELL ENTERED NAVY

Why, the guy figures he's taking a rest cure when he only has to count the money and direct the basketball squad out on the hilltop!

His multiplicity of duties came when Matty Bell, athletic director and football coach, went to the Navy.

Jimmie's football team finished out of the first division but led the Southwest Conference in passing and was second in total offense.

NO WORRY OVER JOB

Now he has a strong basketball team coming up but is rather pessimistic over its chances in the title race. He figures Texas Christian and Arkansas are too tough for the Mustangs.

But he's not going to worry.

If his team doesn't do very well he won't be fired.

Who ever heard of a fellow firing himself?
